Elizabeth, Baby Both Well Guns Boom As Commonwealth Acclaims Heir

LONDON (CP)—A son who may one day rule the Commonwealth was born Sunday night to Princess Elizabeth. Today Buckingham Palace announced the new Prince weighed seven pounds, six ounces at birth.

The announcement of the weight of the Royal child came shortly after palace officials had flashed word to a jubilant Britain that the condition of both mother and son "is satisfactory."

Members of the Royal household described the Prince as "a lovely boy, a really splendid baby," and "a bonny lad."

The four doctors who attended the birth at 9.14 Sunday night visited the mother and baby for an hour early this morning while church bells pealed and happy crowds clustered at the Palace gates. Salutes were fired at numerous points in Great Britain.

ABLE TO SLEEP

They issued this bulletin: "Her Royal Highness the Princess Elizabeth has had some sleep during the night. Her condition and that of the infant Prince is satisfactory."

Court circles said the wording of the doctors' bulletin, referring to "some" sleep, indicated the Princess did not have an entirely restful night.

TOWNS, CITIES CELEBRATE

Today cities, towns and hamlets in Britain, the Dominions and the Colonies gave the new prince a Royal welcome.

Joyous thousands, who had waited for hours in the mild November weather, heard of the safe delivery nearly an hour after its occurrence.

Word of the birth was brought to the anxious crowds by a blue-liveried page who walked briskly across the courtyard of the palace, and notified the police constable on duty behind the massive bronze gates that the Princess was safely delivered of a child.

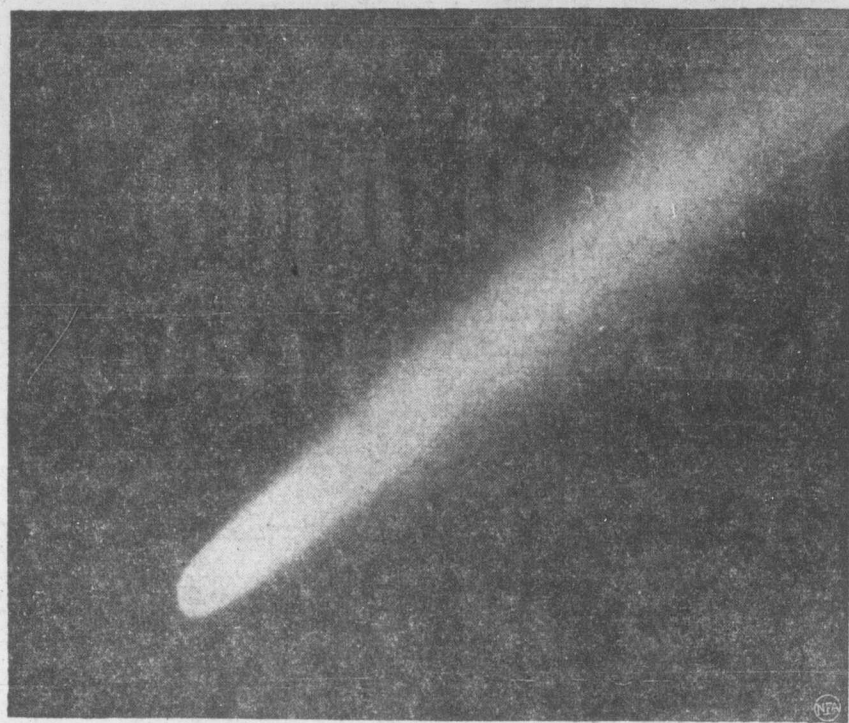

The constable promptly boomed: "It's a boy!"

CHEERED, WAVED HANDS

That was the signal for thunderous cheers, wild hand-waving and an outburst of enthusiasm such as auster London has not known since Elizabeth, 22-year-old heiress presumptive to the throne, and handsome Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, were married last November.

The birth came six days before the first anniversary of their marriage in Westminster Abbey. The birth evidently was uncomplicated. Labor apparently lasted some two hours. An anaesthetic was used, but reliable reports said it was not trile.

AERIAL VISITOR—This is the newly-discovered comet, named Lourens-Stoy and classified as "Comet 1948 L," as photographed by an 18-inch camera at Mount Palomar Observatory, California. The aerial visitor, most brilliant seen in the northern hemisphere since 1927, would have been visible to Victorians low in the southern sky last week just before dawn but for clouds. Astronomers are attempting to determine its orbit, and to figure out when it may be expected back again.

Probe Fatal Shot

WINNIPEG (CP)—R.C.M.P. today were continuing investigation into the death Saturday of a 22-year-old bride of four months, accidentally shot and killed at a lumber camp 93 miles southeast of here. The woman, Mrs. Alex Boyko, was shot through the chest with a .22-calibre rifle.

Bribery Denied

LONDON (Reuters)—Allegations suggesting that John W. Belcher, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, was paid £50 ($200) a week by an intermediary for a firm of football pool promoters were mentioned today by Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross. Sir Hartley said there was no corroboration of these allegations made by a principal of the pool and Belcher denied them.

Richland, Wash., Probes Set Fires

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—School was dismissed today while local and federal officials investigated a fire which Chief H. W. Strock of the Richland patrol said caused about $100,000 damage and which he asserted, "had all the indications of arson."

It broke out at several points in the 900-pupil Lewis and Clarke grade school late Saturday, following two other fires.

A blaze which damaged an outside wall of the Masonic Temple earlier Saturday night was set off by a flarepot of the kind used as a warning light on highways. Thursday, the same device was used to start a fire inside the temple.

Stolen From Garage

10.10 today, Mrs. Cameron discovered that her sedan was taken from her garage sometime during the night without the knowledge of the household. Ignition keys had been left in the glove compartment.

Up to this afternoon the car had not been found.

Jack Hawkes reports he is more concerned with ledgers, customers' accounts, insurance papers and other documents the safe held, rather than the money. An uncompleted attempt was made to get into the same premises in October. During the war years the dial was knocked off the safe in a robbery attempt.

President Truman Lauds St. Laurent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today congratulated Louis St. Laurent, successor to Mr. King as Prime Minister of Canada, on his acceptance of leadership of "one of the world's great nations."

Mr. Truman also sent Mr. King a telegram hailing his achievements in office, particularly his contributions to "the firm friendship of our two countries."

Canada Asks Armistice Between Jews, Arabs Now

PARIS (CP)—Canada today demanded that the United Nations order Arabs and Jews to negotiate an immediate armistice in the Holy Land.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton offered a new resolution to the Security Council following closely suggestions of acting mediator Ralph Bunche.

The Canadian draft calls the Palestine situation a threat to peace. It says an armistice is a necessary bridge between the

U.S. Shows Great Interest

Gen. McNaughton, in the 11-power Security Council, said he had conferred with Belgium and France. He is known also to have consulted the United States and Britain. The council invited representatives of Israel, Egypt and Lebanon to the meeting.

The Security Council has before it a proposal to extend the U.N. truce now in effect in the Negev Desert of southern Palestine to all of the Holy Land.

The report of a new U.S. move came amidst strong Israeli protests against an order for Jewish troops to withdraw from southern Negev. The purpose of the move is to force an end to the Palestine war.

Israeli officials here and in Tel Aviv protested the order of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting U.N. Palestine mediator, received in Tel Aviv Sunday. The order calls on Israeli forces to withdraw from Negev territory won from the Egyptian army since last Oct. 14 and turn over the town of Beersheba to the Arabs. The U.N. previously had ordered that hostilities cease on Oct. 14.

New Mechanized Army Aids Chinese In Suchow Battle

NANKING (AP)—Government troops today fought with the aid of a new mechanized arm to escape a massive Communist trap in the battle for central China.

Pro-government press dispatches indicated the attempt to crack through the pincers movement was succeeding, but they lacked confirmation. Shanghai accounts went so far as to declare the Nationalists had turned the Red tide at Suchow Sunday.

Suchow is 200 miles northwest of Nanking. It is there the Chinese Red army must be stopped—or the road to the Chinese capital will be open. Suchow itself might fall without serious consequence if government commanders can avoid entrapment.

All sources agreed the Communists had cut off Gen. Huang Po-tao's 7th Army Corps at Nienhuang, 33 miles east of Suchow. The Chinese Central News Agency reported Gen. Chiu Ching-chuan's new mechanized army—first of its kind in China—had broken through

Six Ex-M.P.'s Of Newfoundland Ask Ban On Union

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Six former members of the old Newfoundland Parliament have taken out a Supreme Court writ against Governor Macdonald and other members of the Government Commission, charging the recent referendum on union with Canada was unconstitutional and illegal.

They ask for a declaratory judgment and an injunction to restrain the Commission government from concluding union. They also ask the Commission government be restrained from asking the British government to sanction confederation with Canada. The third demand sought in writ is that the government be forbidden to alter the Newfoundland constitution in any way except to restore responsible self-government.

The preamble says the action is sought entirely on the grounds that proceedings regarding the setting up of the national convention and the subsequent constitutional referendum were unconstitutional and illegal.

The plaintiffs are J. S. Currie, E. McNamara, W. C. Windsor, Harold Mitchell, W. J. Browne and J. V. O'Dea.

13½-Cent Boost Urged For Employees Of Yarrows, V.M.D.

A wage increase of 13½ cents per hour retroactive to Aug. 1 was recommended for employees of the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. and Yarrows Ltd. in a majority award of a three-man conciliation board.

The award was made by Reeve A. I. Thomas of Esquimalt, chairman of the board, and J. W. Thompson, nominee of the employers on the board. A. Clyde, nominee of the union, dissented.

At the same time the majority award recommended the companies pay a cost of living bonus of 25 cents per point per week. Mr. Clyde also dissented to this recommendation.

The employees were represented by the Victoria Shipyard Workers' Federal Union No. 238.

The union request for payment of time and one-quarter for all repair work was rejected in the majority award with Mr. Clyde dissenting.

New U.S. Cruiser Most Powerful Yet

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—The most powerful cruiser in the world, the Des Moines, put to sea today for a final trial before joining the U.S. navy.

Today's cruise, called the builders' trial, precedes tomorrow's commissioning of the sleek fighting ship, which embodies newly-engineered automatic rapid-fire operation for its heaviest guns.

The navy calls her the world's heaviest "heavy" cruiser, capable of traveling in "excess of 30 knots."

First of a new class, she also is the first naval vessel to mount a completely automatic, rapid-fire battery of 8-inch guns.

Sculptor, Wife Slain

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)—A state-wide dragnet was spread today for the slayer of nationally-known sculptor Lemo Lazzari and his pretty wife, Louise. Lazzari, about 48, and his wife, the former Louise Delea of Brooklyn, N.Y., 42, were shot to death in their modernistic studio-home early Sunday morning.

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent was sworn in as head of the Canadian Government at 3.45 p.m. E.S.T. today.

As he arrived at Government House, a well-informed source said the new Premier was bringing with him the names of two new cabinet members, former Premier Garson of Manitoba as Minister of Justice and R. H. Winters, 38-year-old Commons member for Queens-Lunenber, N.S., as Minister of Reconstruction.

PRIME MINISTER ST. LAURENT

EX-PRIME MINISTER KING

Mr. Winters, it was understood, will be going into the relatively minor portfolio temporarily to give Nova Scotia immediate cabinet representation, later moving to a bigger job. He takes over reconstruction from Trade Minister Howe.

NO DISPLAY SEEN

Today's history-making developments, ending the long Mackenzie King era, came quietly, with no external display and in the presence of few spectators.

Under a gloomy sky spilling a soggy snowfall—the first of the season—Mr. King drove unobtrusively from his Laurier House home to Rideau Hall, residence of Viscount Alexander, to submit his resignation and recommend Mr. St. Laurent as his successor.

Viscount Alexander then promptly summoned Mr. St. Laurent, waiting in his office in the Parliament Buildings' East Block. The Justice Minister visited the Governor-General for 13 minutes, then left without telling reporters his plans.

The whole procedure had a matter-of-fact air. After his visit to the Governor-General Mr. King posed for pictures in the main doorway of the building. Photographers asked them to shake hands.

"I shall never tire of shaking hands with Mr. King," said the Governor-General.

"I cannot imagine having better relations with anyone than I have had with Viscount Alexander," Mr. King replied.

After a few minutes spent on the Rideau Hall steps, Mr. King got into his overcoat and started back home.

Dawson Creek Man Mysteriously Shot

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Police today were investigating the mysterious shooting Friday of a district farmer who was struck by a heavy calibre bullet while riding in his automobile.

The farmer, James Watson, was taken to hospital with a bullet wound which pierced his lungs. The bullet crashed through the rear of the car as it was leaving town along the Alaska Highway.

Hospital authorities said today Mr. Watson was in serious condition.

Salutes In Virginia

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Army and naval batteries here today fired salutes to the new-born prince and to two royal navy warships which arrived with the commander of the British Home Fleet, Admiral Sir Rhoderick McGrigor.

The 21-gun salute to Princess Elizabeth's son was fired after the salute to H.M.S. Duke of York. Escorting the famed battleship was the destroyer St. James.

Halifax Stevedores Refuse To Unload Diverted Ships

HALIFAX (CP)—Halifax longshoremen announced today they would not work any more ships diverted here from strike-bound United States ports.

J. J. Campbell, president of the Halifax Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), said, however, that the stevedores had decided to complete loading and unloading of the Mauretania, already in port, and were considering doing the same for three other ships.

He felt the same decision would be made regarding these ships, the Veendam, Britannic and Oregon.

Mr. Campbell said the decision to stop working diverted ships came after the United States longshoremen's strike had become official. While the U.S. strike was unofficial Halifax longshoremen had continued to work, but now they did not wish to be classed as "scabs" and would work "no more diverted ships."

Halifax has about 2,000 longshoremen, but today's no work call affected only several gangs. The longshoremen will still continue to work ships whose original destination was Halifax, Oregon.

Gabriola Island Man Formally Charged In Shotgun Murder

NANAIMO (CP)—Gordon Buck, 21-year-old Gabriola Island farmer-fisherman, was formally charged today with the murder of Irwin Waldemar Piper, 20.

Piper was shot and killed Friday night as he stepped from his automobile near his Gabriola home to investigate a first shot-gun blast.

Eyewitness to the shooting was Piper's 11-year-old sister Anita, who rolled out of the car and hid beneath it while the masked man went through her brother's pockets.

Buck, who unemotionally pleaded not guilty, is held without bail pending his appearance next Monday.

It was intimated that a love angle might be injected into the preliminary hearing. Piper and his sister had attended a movie at an island hall. Following the movie, they accompanied a young woman to her home.

Stolen Auto May Be Linked With Theft Of Garage Safe

City detectives this morning believed there might be a link with the theft of the 1946 model Chrysler sedan car from Mrs. J. O. Cameron's 1262 Rockland Avenue home and the safe containing about $500 and valuable papers from the office of Hawkes Bros. Service garage at 404 Moss Street during the night.

Thieves, who broke into the office with tools secured from the service station's garage, sometime between midnight and 4 jammed the front door open from the inside and carted the safe away.

The safe weighed between 400 and 500 pounds, was 2 ft. wide, 2 ft. tall and 3 ft. deep. It would take several persons to move the safe away, police said.

The robbers removed a side window in the office and climbed through. The person who did this apparently cut himself. A first aid kit in the office was

Plan Permanent Waterfront Peace

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiators announced today they had taken steps to make peace last once the 75-day West Coast United States maritime strike is settled.

"Definite progress" in talks toward new contracts was reported by representatives of the Waterfront Employers' Association and the C.I.O. longshoremen.

Fairbanks Gets Traffic Signals

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Civilization is gradually encroaching on this one-time roaring gold rush camp.

Today—Traffic signals! A stop-and-go light has been installed at Fairbanks' main intersection of Second Avenue and Cushman Street, the terminus of the 1,523-mile Alaska Highway.

Police Chief George Norton said drivers will get "the easy treatment" the first few days.

Man Walking Across Canada

CALGARY (CP)—Earl Thomas Victor Mitchell, 28-year-old Vancouver "walking man," strode briskly into Calgary Sunday night, just 19 days after he had set out on foot from the west coast city for Halifax.

The rangy, six-footer said he was trying to become the first man to cross the Dominion on foot.

Averaging 45 miles a day, he said he had covered about 800 miles afoot since he left Vancouver Oct. 27. Altogether he estimates he should reach his goal in 147 days—about March 23, 1949. By that time, being right in full stride, he'll head for Mexico via Florida, then back up the Pacific coast and home.

He walks from dawn to dusk and said he averaged about 3½ to four miles an hour on level ground. He carried a 137-pound pack on his back containing cooking utensils, a sleeping bag and extra clothing.

CALCUTTA (AP)—Six persons today were reported killed and 58 wounded in a communal clash in northern Calcutta Saturday. The trouble broke when a Moslem procession was blocked on this last day of the festival of Moharram. Troops were summoned. A dusk-to-dawn curfew was placed on the riotous areas.

Landslide Cuts Highway Communications To Port Alberni As Gales Strike B.C. Coast

The familiar landmark of Angel Rock on the Port Alberni-Nanaimo Highway, left, was destroyed in Sunday's gales, which left instead this huge mass of rock across the road cutting Port Alberni off from all highway arteries.

Winter gales reaching 90-mile-an-hour in some areas lashed the B.C. coast Sunday and caused a landslide of hundreds of tons of rock on the Port Alberni-Nanaimo highway, cutting Port Alberni and its 7,500 residents off from all highway arteries.

Reported 60-mile-an-hour gales striking at Port Alberni caused the landslide of Angel Rock, a famous overhanging stone structure on the highway connecting the up-island city to southern island points.

The rock face was sheered off for a height of 100 feet above the highway, strewn between 500 tons and 1,000 tons of rock for a distance of 200 feet along the roadbed.

Motorists were forced to abandon their cars and take the Nanaimo-Victoria train. E. & N. Railway officials said today they would put extra coaches on the regular trains to handle the additional traffic caused by the landslide.

CONTRACTORS ON JOB

Provincial Public Works Department officials in Victoria said today General Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver, which had been rebuilding the road from Parksville to Cathedral Grove had moved its equipment back into the landslide area and would be able to start work on removing the highway block as soon as rock stopped coming down. Attempts were made Sunday to get at the fallen debris but workmen were forced to retreat in the face of the continued fall of rock.

Officials said the works department had checked the rock over recently and found no sign of a break. It was also reported there had been no recent blasting in the area. The landslide is believed to have been an after-effect of the June, 1946, earthquake. Angel Rock was licked by the rains and winds for almost 20 hours before the landslide occurred.

Elsewhere as the gales continued, mariners up coast in the Queen Charlotte Islands and off Victoria and Vancouver scurried for shelter as the squally rains and hail persisted.

The 90-mile-an-hour hurricane force gusts struck at Sandspit in the up-coast Queen Charlottes. The Canadian Pacific Airlines' weather station there reported the station, repaired and battered down after last week's gale, was almost blown away.

Here, in Victoria, where gales of 56 miles an hour in gusts were recorded, little or no damage was reported. Greater Victoria police departments had no reports of damages, and only Victoria and Oak Bay fire departments had any reports of chimney fires. In Victoria one occurred at 133 Lady, Smith at 1.55 in the afternoon and another at 5.18 in the afternoon at 2140 Oswego. The sole Oak Bay chimney fire was at 2231

Bowker Avenue at 4.10 in the afternoon.

B.C. Telephone's line department reported no trouble at all throughout the Sunday storm, while the B.C. Electric line department reported "very little trouble."

Only transportation company here to report any difficulty at all during the storm was Trans-Canada Airlines. The airline company was forced to cancel its first flights to Seattle and Vancouver in the morning but continued on schedule through the rest of the day. Ships of both the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Service and the Black Ball Line continued operation uninterrupted.

Weather officials from the Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Heights, reported the 56-mile-an-hour gusts in the Victoria district came from the southwest and occurred early in the afternoon. The storm started Sunday morning with winds at 40 miles an hour from the southeast at 7.30 in the morning, with gusts up to 54 miles an hour.

The wind continued to blow from the southeast until 11 and then switched to the south. By 12.30 in the afternoon it was blowing southwest 30 and then blew a gale until 5.30 in the afternoon when it started to decrease.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 7.30 this morning, was .72 inches, the heaviest so far this month, but no record for a November. Weather officials said the all-time record rainfall was on Nov. 13, 1887, when 2.65 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period. On Nov. 13, 1945, a total of 1.57 inches fell, and even 1946 was a few decimal points up on Sunday for on Nov. 17 of that year, there was a rainfall of .76 inches.

Weather

Weather synopsis and official forecast issued by the Dominion public weather office at Vancouver at 9 a.m. Monday, Nov. 15, valid until midnight Tuesday, Nov. 16:

Synopsis—Showery, unsettled weather is general over British Columbia this morning in the wake of yesterday's storm which has moved rapidly eastward into Saskatchewan overnight. Gradual clearing is expected over most of the province tonight. There is some evidence for a new storm centre forming in the Pacific. This storm appears likely to be just off the Washington coast about midday tomorrow with a strong probability of increasing cloudiness and rain over Vancouver Island and the lower mainland by Tuesday afternoon.

Vancouver and vicinity, lower Fraser Valley and Strait of Georgia—Cloudy, frequently overcast in showers today. Variable cloudiness tonight, clearing Tuesday morning. Cloudiness increasing to overcast about noon Tuesday with intermittent rain commencing in the afternoon. Winds southwesterly 20 this morning decreasing to light during the afternoon. Little change in temperature. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Vancouver.

37 and 47, Abbotsford, 35 and 48, Nanaimo, 38 and 47.

Victoria and vicinity—Cloudy today, clearing by evening. Scattered showers this morning. Clear Tuesday morning becoming overcast about midday with intermittent rain commencing in the afternoon. Winds southwest, 30 today and light Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Victoria 38 and 48.

West Coast Vancouver Island—Overcast with showers today. Variable cloudiness tonight. Overcast Tuesday with rain commencing about midday. Winds westerly 20 today shifting to southeasterly 20 overnight. Little change in temperature. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Estevan Point 40 and 46.

Accidental Death In Harrison Case

A verdict of accidental death with a rider that the Workmen's Compensation Board require a device whereby a frame could be locked at any angle, rather than when vertical was brought in by a coroner's jury at McCall's Funeral Home, this morning, investigating the death, Nov. 10 of Sidney A. Harrison, 53.

An employee of the electrical firm of Hume and Rumble, Mr. Harrison was instantly killed when struck by a steel A frame on a truck. A crew were working on Beacon Avenue at Sidney. Edmund Pitchford, driver of the truck testified that he was ready to lower the hoist but had not touched the controls when the frame slipped. Harrison was struck in the back as he was picking up his tools before going for lunch, according to evidence.

Dr. Gustav Hoehn, Robert Little and Donald McMillan also gave evidence. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided.

Demolition Practice

The Royal Canadian Navy will carry out demolition practice from Coburg Spit between 1.30 and 4 Tuesday afternoon, naval officials reported today.

IT'S A BOY!

NATURE'S INEXORABLE PROCESSES play no favorites. The birth of a baby to a mother of royal blood differs only from a similar experience to the lowliest commoner in external circumstances. It is a blessed event to both, the climacteric of fond hopes, a challenge to parental love and guidance. But it is especially fitting to alude in unusual terms to the occurrence at Buckingham Palace last night—the arrival of a bonny son to the charming Princess Elizabeth and her gallant Prince. And to all those shoals of congratulatory messages which have been reaching the historic edifice at the bottom of the Mall during the last 24 hours, the people of Canada will add their good wishes for the future happiness and robust health of the royal parents and their new-born offspring.

During the last few weeks, of course, the King and Queen and all the relatives of their eldest daughter—as well as British peoples everywhere—had been looking forward with understandable eagerness to this particular blessed event. It was characteristic also of the great metropolis that Londoners assembled in their thousands to hear the joyful tidings. And when the "bobby" yelled from the courtyard of the historic mansion, "It's a boy," the seething mass which had completely enveloped the Queen Victoria memorial and had wedged itself up against the railings of the King's residence let itself go with traditional abandon. It was indeed a night of nights—in striking contrast to the tragic hush which settled over the land in 1901, 1910, and 1935. These were the years in which three beloved British monarchs died.

Constitutionalists and those students of the system under which the British monarchy operates may view the birth of a male heir to Princess Elizabeth more from the narrow standpoint of succession than from the culmination of a healthy desire of a young girl brought up in the finest of family tradition. But what occurred at Buckingham Palace last night, by that token, is of considerable importance. It means that a time may come when the mother of this bonny boy will ascend the throne; in that case, her son would become the heir apparent and have the right to prepare himself for such responsibilities and obligations as automatically attach themselves to that high state. What the future holds, however, is a matter that time will define for all to see and understand.

What is of particular importance and significance at the moment is the fundamental fact that Princess Elizabeth, the heiress-presumptive, is now a happy mother. She has entered the state of motherhood, moreover, with the knowledge that since she left off wearing short frocks she has assiduously applied herself to those tasks so intimately associated with her station as the next in line of succession. In all of this, however, she has exuded the simple spirit of a family life which has left nothing to be desired in its basic meaning. Those all-too-seldom radio messages of hers to the world at large have been models of propriety and the essence of genuine simplicity.

Finally, of course, Princess Elizabeth has had all the advantages which sensible parents could bestow upon her. King George and his gracious Queen are models. When they were married in 1923 they could not foresee the events which followed the death of King George V. Circumstances bequeathed to them a great responsibility, a difficult task, and world developments in the interim have not lightened their heavy load of public duties. But, through it all, these two very human people have set an example of personal and family rectitude of which the new royal mother is the product.

FITNESS OR THE PRIZE?

CANADIANS IN GENERAL WILL applaud the efforts of the National Council on Physical Fitness to broaden the participation of our citizens in athletic activities. The objective of improving bodies as well as minds needs no particular advocacy here. The case is not in dispute. Moreover, the conference called by the council for January to study means of improving standards of performance in the Dominion will arouse wide interest. The latter, of course, is an automatic reaction to the disappointment felt over the showing of Canada's athletes in the last Olympic Games.

The issue of attaining victory in international competition, however, will pose a problem that will become more apparent as the discussion of athletic groups develops. The point at issue, as we see it, will concern the division of opinion on whether national effort should be devoted to the winning of Olympic laurels, or whether the attainment of such international supremacy should be relegated to a secondary position in a general scheme to make Canadians more healthy by means of wider athletic activity. Adherence to either extreme would be unsatisfactory. Unlimited emphasis on participation only would remove from sport its highly advantageous competitive element, though it might help to stir the circulation of the blood on a national scale. On the other hand, if the manufacture of international athletic reputations alone were to become the objective, the necessary specialization on a select few would be of no worth to the thousands who would be included in a broader scheme of participation.

Doubtless a happy medium can be found. And the search for it will be facilitated as Canadians repudiate the suggestion that participation in the last Olympics was a "fiasco," a term used too loosely in this connection. Certainly we took a licking last time. Our reputation called for something better. But it was only because we had been so good on earlier occasions that lack of success this time was damaging to our record. Canadians interested in athletics very properly should set their sights on Olympic and similar goals. But the medallion of victory, important as it is, is not the most vital reward in life. Nor is it necessarily the seal of highest accomplishment in national physical fitness.

HOME AGAIN

CANADIANS WILL READ WITH SATISFACTION of the splendid reception given the ships and men of the R.C.N. on their recent visit to Pearl Harbor. According to Capt. J. C. Hibbard, captain of H.M.C.S. Ontario and commander of the squadron which returned on Saturday from a five-week training cruise, American servicemen and civilians in the Hawaiian Islands hold a "great respect" for the fighting men of this Dominion.

For this tribute to our country the officers and men who took part in the cruise may assume a large share of praise. Termed by Capt. Hibbard "a most profitable and interesting trip," unmarred by a single mishap or unhappy incident, the cruise has added still another knot in the ties that join us in mutually friendly relations with the neighboring republic. As ambassadors of good will as well as an arm of national defence the men of the Royal Canadian Navy have acquitted themselves well.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S RAILWAY

IT IS WELL THAT PREMIER JOHNSON should have stated emphatically that neither the Canadian Pacific Railway nor the Canadian National Railways is interested in the completion of the British Columbia-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The taxpayers of this province now are entitled to know exactly what their own transportation system means to them from the standpoint of dollars and cents. They will eventually be told what the government has in mind about its future.

In these columns on June 4, 1947, we suggested that the ideal plan would be a four-party arrangement in which the Dominion government, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National would share with this province the cost of completing the provincially-owned system to an area of British Columbia reputed to be immensely rich in natural resources. And we followed this argument by saying:

By the adoption of such a procedure, to put it simply, all would be investing in the future of a virtually unexplored portion of the country for the benefit of the whole nation.

What troubled us at the time was the difficulty with which Prime Minister Mackenzie King would be confronted if he were to air the question in Parliament. Could the head of the government, for example, advocate on the floor of the House of Commons financial participation in such a scheme with any hope of approval—particularly by the members from the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, or even from Manitoba and Saskatchewan?

Admittedly this was a somewhat lugubrious view to take of the prospect; but our comments at the time were based on the hard facts of reality. And an intelligent discussion of this important provincial issue was not helped by a series of speculative items in a Seattle newspaper which appeared to imply that the British Columbia government at that time was in negotiation with certain unnamed American interests for the purchase of the P.G.E. under an arrangement requiring substantial land grants. Let it be understood, however, that no prospect for the sale of this important property could then be sneezed at—provided, of course, the interests of the people of British Columbia were properly safeguarded.

What the government of the people of this province must consider now, however, is how best their so-called "white elephant" can be dealt with in order that an investment of approximately $100,000,000 will return dividends. The task of Mr. Johnson and his ministerial colleagues in this respect is not an enviable one. It is, nevertheless, to be hoped that future discussions of the numerous intangible elements of this problem will not be hamstrung by useless recriminations or political floundering.

ENOUGH LEFT OVER?

PEOPLE WILL TAKE COLD COMFORT from the suggestion advanced by a Washington expert that the use of atomic bombs will be limited because of the scarcity of uranium. Only enough would be available, he says, to permit bombing of the most important targets, so that dispersal of population and industry throughout the country would safeguard a large part of the nation's economy against suffering the fate of Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

Such an idea may be all right in theory, but it carries little encouragement for those who are located in the areas most likely to suffer attack. There is, of course, a certain comfort for the rest of us. We need only worry about 2,000-pound block-busters and similar trivial weapons. The big question is, will there be any uranium left over to usher in the great new era of unlimited industrial power for which we have been waiting?

The People Spoke

By PETER EDSON, from Washington
WHAT DID THE people say in the U.S. presidential election? Some of their sayings may be sign language on which there will be conflicting interpretations. But among the things which the election results seemed to say, there may be listed these:

The people said they like the New Deal reforms. Any idea that Harry Truman won because he campaigned far to the left of what he himself thinks privately, may be wrong. For a reference point on that, go back to Harry Truman's 1946 budget message in which he outlined a 21-point program of increased social welfare and better living conditions for all the people. He has stuck consistently to that.

THE PEOPLE SAID they don't want a reactionary Republican government. This does not necessarily mean that the Republican Party is dead. More likely it just means that the people think the Republicans made their mistake at Philadelphia last June, when they chose the candidate with the best political machine instead of the best candidate.

The people said they don't like a candidate who is too cagey, too cozy, too smooth. The people said they like a scrapper. They like an underdog who is inclined to put up a good fight. The people said they like a man who is honest, even if he is sometimes wrong. The people said they preferred a candidate who told them frankly just where he stood on every issue.

THE PEOPLE SAID they wanted nothing to do with communism. They said that in their repudiation of Henry Wallace, Leo Isaacson, Lee Pressman and their so-called Progressive Party.

They also said they were suspicious of "Wall Street," of big business that made too much profit. What the people said they wanted was a middle of the road course—a sane private enterprise system with plenty of freedom for the individual, but with a government-regulated economy in case business could not or did not regulate and curb itself sensibly.

The people said they wanted something done about high prices and inflation. They did not necessarily say that they want full wartime price controls and inflation. But they apparently believe that doing something—even if it turns out to be the wrong thing—is better than doing nothing. You get confirmation of that in such things as the election of ex-OPA administrator Chester Bowles as governor of Connecticut.

THE PEOPLE SAID they didn't like the record of the 80th Congress. The people didn't like what the 80th Congress did not do about such things as expanding social security coverage, increasing the minimum wage level, taking care of public housing. The people didn't like what the Congress did do about labor legislation. A majority of the people said they were willing to have the Taft-Hartley Act repealed. President Truman so pointedly made that an issue of the campaign that there can be no doubt about it.

A vast majority of the people said they wanted a civil rights program enacted and they want it enacted for the whole country, not just parts of it.

The people said they were for the Marshall Plan. They said so eloquently by such things as the defeat of Republican isolationism.

THERE ARE MANY fine clean things like this about the last election. They leave a pleasant taste in the mouth. They tend to prove that this thing called democracy works. Just tell the people all the facts, and they will instinctively decide what is the right thing to do.

The marvel of the election is that this thing called democracy—the American system of having a revolution every four years whether the country needs it or not—works better than most people realize. Many of the people who went to the polls to vote for Truman and his party did so with misgivings, not expecting that their votes would do any good. But they voted their convictions. And just look at the result.

THE PEOPLE VOTED with their heads. They split tickets all over the ballot. The element that threw the election to the Democrats, the element that threw the professional poll-takers for a loss, was the nine per cent of the voters who were "undecided" on how they would vote until the last minute. They were the ones who went to the polls and kicked out the officeholders they thought were no good, substituting candidates they thought better. That is where the people spoke loudest.

Quoting

I see no reason why man shouldn't keep progressing. Certainly a four-minute mile and a nine-second 100-yard dash are not impossible.—Lord Burghley, chairman of the 1948 Olympics.

England is a very wise nation. If she wants to solve this problem, she'll find a way.—Sean Nunan, Eire's minister to the United States, referring to the centuries-old conflict between Eire and England.

While I have written music which goes right to the people, I also wanted to serve other ends besides simply entertainment. I wanted to conquer the hearts and souls of men.—Franz Lehár, late composer-conductor, in a last message to his public.

We build safer cars, tires and highways to provide the American motorist with every aid for safe driving, but there is one intangible we cannot manufacture—even tempered drivers.—James J. Newman, vice-president, the B. F. Goodrich Company.

I want to congratulate you on the wonderful critic you have in Audrey St. D. Johnson. Her articles are masterpieces from a literary as well as from an artistic standpoint.

Please thank Mrs. Johnson for me for the wonderful and delightful evening I had at "Show Boat." I would not have gone had she not told us in advance what a marvellous show it was. And her write-up of it is a gem, which I intend to keep.

DISGUSTING CONDUCT

May I through the medium of your newspaper relate my experience with regard to petty thievery of our flower garden plants.

Three times during the past year we have had expensive shrubs removed from our front garden. This vandalism is not the work of children as the adult on all occasions was careless enough to leave footprints.

On Friday morning, Oct. 29, I planted two attractive shrubs, and on Saturday morning I found they had been carefully uprooted and carried away. On another occasion the thief carried a spade and dug deeply into the ground to remove two well-rooted ornamental trees.

Acts such as this tend to make one lose interest to beautify their gardens, especially when it requires so much time and expense.

Now I only wish to pass along my experience to others in the Burnside area as a warning to be on guard for this ruthless person or persons who evidently think this is a smart way to procure plants.

The police have been notified but unfortunately plants cannot be easily traced. However, as our plants grow in their new location I hope they will tend to remind the guilty ones of a very unkind act towards another citizen.

(Mrs.) ELSIE MAR
527 Burnside Road East.

GERMANY AND FOOD

Now that our neighbor to the south of us has gotten over the D.T.'s (Deweylirium Trumans) perhaps something will be done in the matter of real peace. This continued occupation of Germany must be getting on the nerves of the German people and preparing them for that very Communism we fear so much. It is, besides, a source of needless expense on the part of the U.S. and Britain, particularly the latter, for it needs all the food it can get for its own people without having to ship it to an enemy country.

It is strange that millions of dollars can be spent on food for Germany, yet it has none to spare for the purchase of Canadian apples which Britons could well do with. To the ordinary Tom, Dick and Harry, the whole thing seems asinine; but who can figure the strange workings of the political mind? For an ordinary citizen to allow his family to go short of food whilst at the same time he supplies a neighbor, with whom he had had a bitter quarrel and who had injured him and his, cruelly, would seem the act of an imbecile.

However, the world in general seems to be going insane and paving the way for the wiping out of the present civilization by nature to make way for a more intelligent one, don't you think?

CLYDE FRASER
790 Linkleas Avenue.

WHEN IS A SOCIALIST?

I would like to direct Mrs. A. Colclough (who defends Rev. Mr. Hill in a letter of Nov. 9), to the book of Acts, Chap. 4, especially verse 32. That is true Socialism, and why the Christian churches did not carry it down through the centuries was not because the system was wrong, but because the Christians were weak.

The Christian church at the present day has the Socialist idea to a certain degree. The satire you point at Socialism very well depicts the capitalist system at the present time, although I would not go so far as to call them all Godless sinners, as I have many good friends who support capitalism.

In England and in our own province of Saskatchewan we have an example of what Socialism can do. I know several ministers in Saskatchewan who are Socialists. The Premier, Rev. T. C. Douglas, is one of them. If you will look over the benefits and freedom which both young and old enjoy in Saskatchewan you might be surprised and realize that there is a God-fearing man at head of affairs. I am writing of Socialism, not Communism. There is a vast difference.

If church members would join in the Socialist movement where each member has an equal say in the form of government, we would out Communism from our land in a very short time.

SCARLET FEVER

Well, at last, I have been linked to the stage of writing to your paper for the satisfaction of getting this "off my chest," so to speak. The matter causing the fire is the prevalence at this time in Sooke district of scarlet fever. At the time of writing, I understand there are 40 cases in the district—which means it is an epidemic. Yet the schools remain open. The reason for this, it seems, is that better check can be kept this way on the cases! This seems to be a new angle.

On the advice of our local doctor here some mothers are keeping their children home for a two-week period at least. How sorry we are that the first few cases in the district were not isolated properly to prevent the disease becoming so widespread. But it seems there is a modern method of checking the disease now. The breadwinners in a home quarantined for the germ can go around with the rest and attend to the daily jobs, and the only stipulation is that he or she is to keep away from the child who has the disease. In the good old days there was a six weeks' quarantine and breadwinners had to go elsewhere during this time. Sometimes it seems as though the good old days had something.

Anyway we heartily deplore present methods of controlling such an epidemic and we feel the condition could have been averted with proper management.

RADIO DISTRESS CHANNEL

With reference to the appeal published and broadcast, asking radio amateurs to refrain from operating near the 500 kilocycle distress channel, may we make the following statement?

"This International Distress Channel is reserved for emergency calls and no stations, amateur or commercial, operate near the frequency. All amateur frequencies are located in the short-wave spectrum and are far removed from the 500 k.c., long wave, channel. Nearest amateur frequencies are on 3,500 k.c. in the 80-meter band."

In view of the above, we wish to point out that the broadcast appeal could not have come from official sources as it illustrates a complete lack of knowledge of the frequencies used for radio communication.

REV. HILLS AND SOCIALISM

Mr. Le Gallais, in last Friday's Times, makes an unwarrantable attack on the Rev. W. Hills for his speeches against the C.C.F. Mr. Le Gallais calls the Christ, the great Socialist.

Anyone who has studied the Bible and Socialism knows that The Christ was no Socialist. His two great commands were: Love God and love your fellowmen. Note that He put God first. He taught that the brotherhood of Man can only be achieved if all men believe in the fatherhood of God. Most Socialist leaders put God a long way second, that is if they acknowledge Him at all. All the Socialists whose writings I have read, also all the Socialist leaders I have met, express more hatred for their opponents than any other group I know of. But The Christ preached that men must even love their enemies.

Then take Mr. Herbert Morrison, a member of the Attlee cabinet, who said recently: "The only people who matter are the Trade Unionists, the rest do not matter a tinker's cuss." This is in direct contradiction of Christ's teaching, that all men are of equal value in the eyes of God. Professor Flint, one of the great authorities on both Christianity and Socialism wrote this of so-called Christian Socialism: "That of it which is Christian is not Socialism; and that of it which is Socialism is not Christian."

Associated Press News Analyst

THOSE who espouse the belief that Communism will blow up in due course because of its undemocratic structure (and they are many) have received plenty of encouragement for this view in the efforts of the 58-country social committee of the United Nations assembly in Paris to draw up a charter of human rights.

Progress in writing this all-important document has been marked by a fierce battle between Russia and the anti-Communist countries. The efforts of the Muscovites have been aimed at limiting the rights of the individual and making him a puppet of the state.

NEW AND OLD

In order to understand the significance of this, it is essential that we recognize the structure of present day Communism. A lot of people have the mistaken idea that the current Communism is the same mild and beneficent ideology of long ago which laid down a humanitarian code of one for all and all for one. There is small relationship between today's Communism and the original brand.

The current so-called Communism is Bolshevism. It is a cold-blooded philosophy of totalitarian dictatorship in which the individual is wholly subservient to the state—a cog in a machine. It is an ism which expands by strong-arm aggression.

BASIC FREEDOM

That is the background for the manoeuvres of Soviet Delegate Alexei Pavlov in the social committee—and he has fought doggedly for the totalitarian code. For example, he sought to delete freedom of religion from the declaration of human rights. Naturally this aroused hot opposition among the Democracies, to whom freedom of religion is a cherished right. And the draft resolution as finally adopted provides that "everyone must be guaranteed freedom of thought, conscience and religion." Pavlov would have limited this to freedom of thought.

The Russian position in this argument about religion is easy to understand. One of the cardinal tenets of Bolshevism is that religion is the opium of the masses and must be destroyed.

HOT FIGHT

Another hot fight has been waged in the social committee over freedom of speech and of the press. An article upholding these freedoms was adopted with the Soviet bloc voting solidly against it.

Then Pavlov attacked a proposed article reading: "Everyone has the right to a nationality. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his nationality or denied the right to change his nationality." He maintained that the right to change nationalities should be omitted, and proposed an amendment but the article as originally presented was adopted with the Russian bloc abstaining.

UP AND DOWN

Ottawa Citizen
Official figures confirm the contention of the Evening Citizen that when milk prices go up, consumption of fluid milk declines—with consequent lowering of children's health. The decrease in consumption this year, due to rising prices, comes as a shock.

CLARIFIED

Winnipeg Free Press
Is it possible that Mr. Drew is just playing a little politics? The speech against brain trusters is good rabble rousing stuff in the country while the speech guaranteeing civil servants against violence will offset any losses which might, otherwise, follow in such spots as Ottawa. The public, of course, will realize that the brain trusters and the civil servants are one and the same people and therefore cannot be fixed and protected at one and the same time.

WEARING A "TOPPER"

London (Ont.) Free Press
What is it about a silk hat that adds so strange a halo of aristocratic glamor to the wearer? In the gilded days when it was the customary adornment of the brightest young men about town it was known as a "topper." The only people who spoke of silk hats, or top hats, were merchants, nouveau riche and those whom Karl Marx referred to as the bourgeoisie. To the jeunesse doree it was a "topper" and this may be why it still confers that mysterious halo of resplendent sartorial authority upon all who wear it.

NEW RELIEF! WHEN COLDS CAUSE

Croupy Coughs

Mother, you know what comforting relief you get when you rub on Vicks VapoRub! Now...when your child wakes up in the night tormented with a croupy cough of a cold, here's a special way to use Vicks VapoRub. It's VapoRub Steam—and it brings relief almost instantly!

Put a good spoonful of Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water or vaporizer. Then...let your child breathe in the soothing VapoRub Steam. Medicated vapors penetrate deep into cold-congested upper bronchial tubes and bring relief with every breath!

Most Cases of ACID INDIGESTION Yield to this Simple, Direct Treatment

For the great mass of cases of ordinary acid indigestion and minor stomach upsets, the doctor and nurse need a simple corrective which can be taken by the patient with safety, and which does not either over-alkalize or provoke further excess acidity.

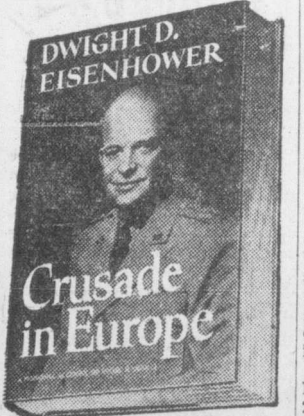

Many doctors recognize these properties in Digestive Rennie and nearly all over the world, Rennies are prescribed in such cases. These pleasant-tasting little tablets are individually wrapped so that they can be carried in pocket or handbag and can be taken at any time—like candy. They contain fifteen ingredients of accepted efficacy and in most instances relief from pain and nausea is prompt and lasting. Most cases, in fact, yield to Rennies. If yours doesn't, see your doctor. Rennies can be bought at all druggists—25c and 75c.

YOU CAN TAKE THEM ANYTIME—ANYWHERE.

Second Broadcasting Station For Victoria Again Requested

David M. Armstrong, assistant manager of radio station CKNW, and former Victorian, told the Times today that he plans to appear before the CBC's Board of Governors' next meeting to urge them to give Victoria a second radio station on the last available local frequency, 1230 kilocycles. "It might well be," said Mr. Armstrong, "that the door could possibly be closed forever to the growing city of Victoria, as far as receiving the services of a second broadcasting station is concerned, if the 1230 frequency were granted elsewhere."

GROWTH OF RADIO

Mr. Armstrong said that in 1942 there were only 923 radio stations in the United States. Today there are 1,962. "This means that if Victorians do not insist on having this last local frequency made available to them, it will go to some nearby American or Canadian community far smaller and less important than British Columbia's capital," said Mr. Armstrong. "The time is now to act and make sure that Victoria develops in every respect, especially in the fast-moving field of communication—radio broadcasting."

Victorians, said Mr. Armstrong, should make their wishes known to A. Davidson Dunton, chairman of the Board of Governors, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Ottawa, so that they might enjoy the benefits and services of additional broadcasting facilities, as do many other Canadian cities of similar size.

Five-Point Policy Outlined By Drew In Moncton Speech

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—George Drew said here Friday night that as head of a federal government he would oppose amalgamation of the railways and would favor better social security legislation for Canada.

Nearing the end of a tour of the Maritimes, the Progressive Conservative leader chose this railway centre to make these points:

1. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways would not be amalgamated by a Progressive Conservative Government.
2. His party is on record in favor of family allowances on an "even level" for every child regardless of size of family.
3. His party stands for old age pensions at 65 without the means test.
4. He hopes to convince the government at the next session to reduce living costs by slashing taxes.
5. If elected, one of the first acts of his government would be to reconvene the Dominion-Provincial conference to settle constitutional and taxation issues.

31st Battalion Men Hold Annual Dinner

Service days were relived Saturday evening in the Stratcona Hotel dining-room as more than 50 members of the 31st Alberta Battalion Association, including four from the mainland, held their eighth annual reunion dinner.

The dinner was held at the same time as a similar one by the parent organization in Calgary. It marked the anniversary of the founding of the battalion in November, 1914.

Seated at the head table were Lieut.-Col. F. M. Steel, of the 27th Battalion, which is affiliated with the 31st; William Donaldson, newly-installed president; Col. J. M. Taylor, former director of the Veterans' Guard; Wing Commander Albert Carter, retiring president; Wing Commander Clark Slemon, and Robert Keane, former secretary of the Canadian Pensioners' Association.

Following a two-minute silence, Rev. George Biddle, who served as a private in the battalion, said grace.

Washington Finds Drinks To Be Expensive

SEATTLE (AP)—Restaurant officials expressed belief today that liquor by the drink, when it comes to Washington State through the new liquor law, will be neither plentiful nor inexpensive.

Cocktails will probably be priced from 10 to 20 cents higher than in eastern cities, they said. They may average from 65 to 75 cents and only about 700 licenses out of 1,154 available will be allotted to restaurants.

T.L.C. Chief Answers A.F.L. On Reds In Canadian Unions

OTTAWA (CP)—An attack on Communists in Canadian unions by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor was seen here today as strengthening the hands of a group of international union officials bent on cleaning Reds out of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

While there had been indications that rail union chief Frank H. Hall and his supporters had the tacit approval of the A.F.L. in their anti-Communist drive in the T.L.C., Saturday's statement by Green at Cincinnati was the first public move throwing A.F.L. influence into the fight.

Green's statement drew non-committal replies from T.L.C. president Percy Bengough, who has been at odds with Hall over the issue of dealing with Communists within the congress. President Bengough said the A.F.L. press statement calling for a "showdown" with Reds in the T.L.C. was the first he had heard from the United States body. The congress had not received any direct communication from the A.F.L. on the question, he declared.

To Green's statement that A.F.L. unions were worried over the influence of Communists north of the border, Bengough replied that "they should be worried about them south of the border."

PER CAPITA DUES

President Bengough also expressed puzzlement at a statement in the Cincinnati report saying the A.F.L.'s international unions pay the expenses of their Canadian offshoots.

He said the A.F.L. unions pay the expenses of their organizers in Canada, but these expenditures are largely covered by per capita taxes going from the Canadian unions to the parent bodies in the U.S.

He also challenged a statement by George Harrison, international president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, that the T.L.C. had been created by the A.F.L.

"As a matter of fact," said Bengough, "the congress was organized before the A.F.L."

Labor Holds Seat, But Majority Cut

LONDON (CP)—Labor candidate Austen Albu won the parliamentary by-election in the suburban constituency of Edmonton Saturday. He defeated Conservative Edwin P. Hubbard by a majority of 3,327, it was announced. Albu, 45-year-old engineer, polled 26,164 votes to 22,837 for Hubbard in a straight fight. The Labor plurality in the 1945 general election, when 1,500 fewer votes were cast, was 19,069 in a three-way race.

Conservative Leader Winston Churchill hailed the heavy increase in the Conservative vote as a "wonderful" sign.

The by-election was made necessary by the death of Labor member Evan Durbin, parliamentary secretary to the Works Ministry, who was drowned last summer.

Says Europe Fears U.S. Imperialistic

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dean of Canterbury said here Sunday that the "idea of America being imperialistic is now growing in Europe, and it brings a terrible fear with it."

Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, here for a lecture tour after engagements in Canada, made the statement in a speech at a dinner sponsored by a welcoming committee headed by Olin Downes, music critic.

He said "peoples all over the earth view with grave misgivings the encirclement of the Soviet Union by 434 American air bases" and the "expenditure by the United States of vast sums for war purposes, even to the extent of two-thirds of the federal income."

The Dean said he had found a "sentiment for peace" and "no talk for war" in eastern European countries he visited recently.

Rangers Prove Ability To Find Lost Persons; Carry Out Man On Stretcher

By ROY THORSEN

South Vancouver Island Rangers proved beyond a doubt on Saturday that they have the most effective and quickest system to locate persons lost or injured in the hinterland.

After setting up the search machinery, rangers had only been on the hunt a matter of a little over two hours when they found William Reader, 49-year-old resident of the former army camp at Colwood, who had been lost on a deer hunting trip in the Sooke Lake watershed's rugged terrain for 43 hours.

"Sure I was worried, but aside from being very hungry and a little hoarse from excessive shouting, the experience did not injure my health," said Reader, father of a family of eight and a first war veteran.

His voice was by no means back to normal on Sunday.

"I'm glad it wasn't he that," he said, pointing to the rain-lashed windows yesterday afternoon. "With a wind like that it would have created a roar in the woods to kill all other sounds."

All he had found to eat in the woods was salal berries. He ate about two cupsful of them, does not recommend them for a steady diet. The hunter, not an experienced woodsman, had expended all but three of his supply of bullets for signalling, saving these to shoot game to eat. He never saw a suitable shot the whole time.

"This place was like Grand Central Station there were so many people around after my husband had been returned home not long after being found at 11 Saturday morning," said a happy Mrs. Reader. She told how E. Palmer, executive secretary, and Muriel Scott of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council had brought out a large box of food to the house to feed those who arrived from the search. Mrs. Reader said that she, her children and neighbors were busy providing food and coffee for Rangers, police and neighbors for a long time. The parade of people to the Reader home continued until the early hours of Sunday morning.

THANKS TO ALL

The Readers are grateful to the Rangers for their excellent and successful service, to provincial policemen and game wardens on the spot and neighbors of the camp who rallied immediately to help in the search.

According to Rangers' executive head, Jack W. King, 27 members participated.

Sir Roderick of Ogden, the bloodhound imported from the U.S.A. and trained for wilderness searches, was on hand but not used. In addition to the country having been well tramped over and intervention of rain, and the fact that some of the Colwood volunteers had worn pieces of the missing man's clothing, the dog was not given first try.

Search organization's chiefs decided to try an all-man effort. Failure of this would have brought Rod into action.

Rangers believe a much quicker "find" would have resulted had they been called into the case earlier.

J. W. King said Rangers were not officially notified until 7 Friday night, 2 hours after the man had been first placed on the missing list. The organization only goes to work when police call them, not for individual parties.

The executive head immediately contacted Les Wilby and Charlie Taylor and dispatched them to Shawnigan Lake to meet Constable Robert Ross and see things up for Rangers' participation Friday night.

Rangers, all members having been alerted the night before and leaders briefed, left town in cars at 7:30 Saturday morning, picking up members en route, went to the search base which had been established near the Sooke Lake watershed and started out to find Reader.

Echoes flung from hill to hill in the area was the trouble which prevented the pin-pointing of sounds. This had spoiled first efforts by William Reader, Jr., and a camp friend, Fave Gardner, also the work of the next search group, volunteers from the camp. Rangers found the echoes a bad feature, but by gunshot signals and voice gradually ferreted out Reader in the maze of hills.

While the searchers were working, Mr. King in the city went to work to organize a second follow-up group to take over from those on the trail in case the search became a long one.

Reader said he became lost shortly after separating from his son, William, at 4 Thursday. He wandered about considerably, finally settled down under a large tree to wait for daylight when efforts failed to inform searchers by shouting and rifle shots where he was.

The next day he tried again to find his way out, but to no avail. He heard shots from searchers, shot off all his own bullets, followed by shouts, until only three were left.

In the rain Friday afternoon, the lost man succeeded in starting a fire. This he kept going the whole night through, catching a little sleep at intervals.

Reader had a piece of dry paper which he used to start the fire with a cigarette lighter. After that he could not find the lighter, figuring he must have dropped it when stuffing the flaming paper under some twigs to build the fire over it.

The moon came out from behind the clouds that night. He found out from this which way he must head next morning. He was heading southeast Saturday morning when picked up by Rangers near Begbie Lake beyond the north end of Sooke Lake.

CARRIED OUT ON STRETCHER

Alex Crouch was Ranger first-aid man. When found he judged Reader was not in shape to proceed under his own steam after he had consumed some food and hot tea from the emergency rations brought along. The found man was placed on the stretcher, always taken along on the searches and was carried out by Rangers and Const. Ross and Game Warden Bob Sinclair.

Cpl. F. L. Jeeves of Duncan B.C. Police detachment took Reader to his relieved and delighted sons and daughters, ranging from six to 24 years, and Mrs. Reader.

Mr. Wilby was in charge of the search operation. Dog handlers were Reay Meldrum, Jack Stevenson and Russ Lyle.

Mr. Taylor, Hugh Kennedy, Walter Woodley and Dave McCreedy were group leaders. Among others attending were Al Morgan, Crouch, Al Luney, Jim Commerford, Lorne Woodley, W. McIlvride Art Humphries, Ernie Drummond, Hugh Stubbs, Jim Tythe, watershed caretaker and Hugh Aylmer.

"My son Bill and Dave Gardner were more tired than I was," said Reader. "I got some sleep, but they had been going continually throughout the period, not pausing once for sleep."

Noted Journalist Dies At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—

Roark Bradford, 52, prominent southern newspaperman and humorist, died at his home here Saturday. He had been in ill-health for two years.

Bradford was the author of "Old Man Adam and His Children," from which the famous Broadway stage play and movie, "Green Pastures," was adapted.

Bradford was best known for his dialect stories, which were printed by several widely-circulated magazines.

In 1937 he was awarded the O. Henry Memorial Award.

One Teacher Wanted For Every 30 Pupils

In protest against unwieldy classes, Vancouver Island teachers at the final session of their three-day convention here last week decided to seek, through the channels of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, to have the School Act amended to provide one teacher for every 30 pupils. Present large classes, it was pointed out, make teaching most difficult and individualized instruction almost impossible.

Steve Joyce Again Heads Ex-R.A.F. Club

Steve Joyce was re-elected president of the Ex-R.A.F. Club of Victoria at the club's annual meeting held last week in the Y.W.C.A. Elected to serve with him during the forthcoming year was Bernard Howe, who will fill the post of secretary-treasurer. Plans for extending the sports program of the club were discussed and a welfare committee was formed under the chairmanship of Air Commodore S. L. G. Pope.

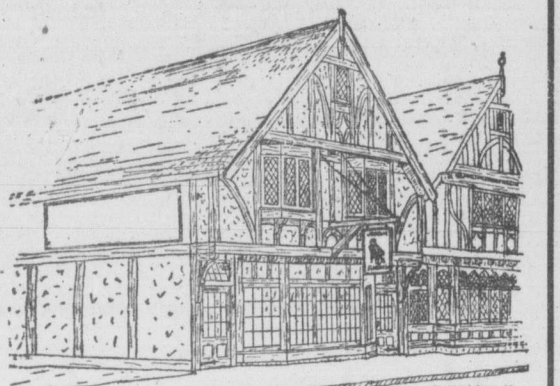

At the close of regular business, members were addressed on the European situation by L. W. Makovski.

Cloud-Like Net Over Taffeta Gowns Bride, Evelyn Usher

Clouds of silken net misted from a crown of fragrant feathered carnations over the gleaming white moire taffeta gown worn by Miss Evelyn Dorothy Usher when she became the bride of Arthur Ernest Zala, Saturday evening.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was conducted at St. John's Church by Rev. William Hills. Baskets of white mums were placed before the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Usher, 1122 Lyall Street, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Zala, 2206 Lydia Street.

Mr. Usher gave his daughter in marriage. She wore elbow length mittens to match her off-shoulder gown, styled with net yoke, fitted bodice, and small peplum over the full skirt. A single strand of pearls encircled her throat, and she carried a shower bouquet of red and white carnations.

An ice-blue taffeta gown, similar to that of the bride's, was worn by matron of honor Mrs. Doris Usher, sister-in-law of the bride. She wore mittens in the same shade, and her loral head-dress was in theme with her Colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Buttercup yellow taffeta frocked flower maid Miss Connie Ballam. She carried a Colonial bouquet of bronze mums and wore a wreath of similar flowers in her hair.

The groom was attended by his brother, Victor Zala, as best man. Horace Lindsey and Frank Holmes seated guests.

While the couple signed the register Mrs. May Oakman sang "Day of Golden Promise."

A reception followed at Terry's Rose Room. There the couple were assisted in receiving guests by their mothers. Autumn-toned mums and slender yellow candles formed the decorations. Toast to the bride was proposed by H. V. Bullock.

Mr. and Mrs. Zala are spending their honeymoon on the mainland. The bride traveled in a scarlet two-piece frock of wool jersey, with grey topper, and black accessories.

Victoria Couple Married In Winnipeg

Edna Joyce Hateary Weds Ken Stewart

Miss Edna Joyce, daughter of Warrant Engineer Officer S. G. Hateary, R.C.N., and Mrs. Hateary, 301 Richmond Avenue, became the bride of Kenneth Stewart, son of Mrs. A. Stewart, 538 Fraser Street, and the late Mr. Stewart, at a quiet ceremony Friday evening in the manse of Metropolitan United Church.

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse read the nuptial service.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a fashionable powder blue ballerina-length frock in taffeta, with cap sleeves, high round neckline, and gathered peplum adding skirt interest.

Fragrant gardenias and pastel pink rosebuds composed her diara headpiece, and similar blossoms were in her bridal bouquet, caught with satin streamers. She chose a pearl necklace, belonging to her mother, as her only jewelry and completed her ensemble with long white gloves and silver sandals.

Miss Sylvia Hateary, her sister's bridesmaid, wore blush pink taffeta, made with sweetheart neckline, and bustle-skirt. Her colonial bouquet was in pink and mauve theme, and she wore long gloves and gold sandals.

Ivan Earnshaw was best man for the groom.

At a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Hateary and Mrs. Stewart received guests with the bridal pair. An heirloom lace cloth graced the table. The three-tier cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by white tapers. Toast was given by W. Berryman. Large yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated reception rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, who are spending their honeymoon in Seattle, will make their home at 205 Beach Drive.

Plans 'Teen Dances

Novelty dances, lucky prizes and refreshments found high favor with teen-agers who attended the opening dance at Esquimalt Community Centre, 1123 Colville Road. The young folks enthusiastically received the specialized musical arrangements particularly appealing to teenage dancers, by Dan Levy's orchestra.

Dancers also enjoyed the newly re-surfaced dance floor, completed by adult members of the community. Dances are planned for each Friday night, from 8 to 11, and the next has been scheduled for this Friday. Further information will be given by Mrs. Edith Brindley, by phoning G 0050 before 5.

Hit Tunes Played, Attractive Gowns Worn At Supper Dance

Tunes like "Galway Bay," "Tree in the Meadow" and "Buttons and Bows," from today's hit parade, were among numbers played by William Tickle's orchestra for the Saturday night dinner dance at the Empress Hotel.

Fall and early winter's ever-popular black gown was main choice of feminine guests who also showed a preference for the new shorter hair styles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brynjolfson who are leaving shortly to live in Saint John's, N.B., came with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brynjolfson. The second named Mrs. Brynjolfson's frock was of black crepe, fashioned with back ruffle from waistline to the hem, which it also encircled, while her sister-in-law's choice was a black moire suit, fastened with gold buttons.

Attending together were honeymoon couples, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Manning from New York and Mr. and Mrs. Candler Wilkinson, Jr., of San Angelo, Texas. A black lace handkerchief, fastened to a jet bracelet and a single strand brilliant necklace accented Mrs. Manning's black cocktail dress while ankle strap slippers completed her ensemble. Mrs. Wilkinson's black frock was finished with large bow in bustle effect.

Drawing admiration from other dancers was the smart rhumba to "Cuban Pete," done by Mrs. Doreen Bradshaw and her escort, Mr. Bob Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abernethy were entertaining Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simpson, of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Walls made a foursome with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott who have taken up residence here after living in Calcutta for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McGregor came with Mr. and Mrs. Hamish Dunn.

Other dancers included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson, Miss Jennie Marr and Mr. Bob Carter.

Clubwomen's News

Christmas Bazaar—Conveners were chosen for various stalls, including plain and fancy sewing, home cooking, white elephant, candy, garden plants and bulbs for the Christmas bazaar, at St. Matthias Guild meeting. Afternoon tea will be served at the affair to be held in the parish hall Friday at 2.30.

Bazaar, Tea—Women's Auxiliary to Garden City United Church made final plans for the annual bazaar and tea to be held Wednesday, Mrs. W. W. McPherson will open the fête at 2.30. There will be many stalls including home cooking, candy, needlework, knitting, white elephant, and inexpensive gifts for children. Mrs. J. Smith will entertain with musical selections.

Addresses Meeting—Mrs. H. Hewitt gave a speech dealing with prominent women lost and gained by immigration and emigration at the meeting of Canadian Daughters' League, Assembly No. 5, held in clubrooms. Mrs. R. H. McInnes, president, was in the chair. Mrs. W. Ledingham, convener, reported on the recent bazaar, and Mrs. C. Jasper gave an account of the court whist party. Mrs. G. Ralston told members of the Local Council of Women meeting.

Games Night—Members of Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, discussed arrangements for the Games Night to be held at Prince Robert House, Nov. 26, at their meeting recently in the library of Prince Robert House, with Mrs. Grace Waters, presiding. It was also announced that a home cooking stall would be held Dec. 4 at David Spencers, Ltd. Mrs. Maude Hammond, director, received an invitation from International Office, Beta Sigma Phi, Kansas City, to visit them next year, and has accepted. Miss Iris Stewart conducted the cultural program "Happiness Through the Control of Personality and Relationship." Members assisting were Betty Prangnell, Lois McIntosh, Jean Fields, Margaret Skinner, Mary Youson and Gwen Tonks.

Card Party—Members of Brentwood Women's Institute will hold their annual 500 card party Dec. 18, at 8.15, when winners will receive turkeys as prizes. It was announced at their meeting. Following cards there will be games and refreshments, and a sale of aprons. Mrs. G. V. Williams was in the chair. Members have given use of the hall for the Christmas party for scouts and cubs, and have voted a cash donation for the party. It was decided that three Christmas presents would be sent to Queen Alexandra Solarium for the chapter's adopted children. At the recent bridge party there were nine tables in play, and newcomers were received by the president. Regular 500 card party will be held Friday at 8, with Miss D. W. Worthington and Mesdames W. Sturrock, T. Wolfe and M. Atkins as conveners.

Jan Shower—Members of Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute decided to hold a jam shower at their next meeting for Christmas gifts for children at Queen Alexandra Solarium, it was reported. Final plans were made for the autumn tea and a donation was made to Happy Valley P.T.A. to assist with the Christmas party fund. Mrs. M. Morrow read a report on the South Vancouver Island conference. At the next meeting to be held in Happy Valley School, election of officers will take place.

St. David's Guild Plans Sale, Tea

Conveners reported on plans made for the fifth annual pre-Christmas sale and tea to be held Dec. 1, in the church hall, at the meeting of St. David's Women's Guild, held at the home of Mrs. W. Ronald, Cordova Bay Road.

Mrs. K. M. Lewis presided over the meeting, attended by 21 members and visitors. Conveners of the many interesting stalls planned include, aprons and fancywork, Mesdames H. Savage, F. Smith and C. Hill; home cooking, Mrs. Ronald and Mrs. J. H. Stevenson; candy, Mrs. K. R. Glen and Mrs. A. P. Williams; superfluities, Mrs. F. Baker, Mrs. P. G. Raven; dolls and toys, Mrs. A. Taylor and Mrs. C. B. Price. There will be a prize awarded for the best dressed doll donated, it was announced.

Mrs. H. McDougall and Mrs. J. Walker will have charge of games; Mrs. A. S. Miller, tea tickets, and Mrs. S. McMaster will be tea convener.

Members decided to sell church calendars and secretary to Mrs. B. J. Dyer was instructed to secure them from the Synod Book Room.

A special sewing meeting was planned to be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis, next Tuesday at 2.30.

During the social half-hour following business, Mrs. Ronald served tea, assisted by Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Peggy Bartholomew Leaves for New York and Canadian Markets

Mrs. Bartholomew, well-known authority on home planning and decorating, who recently joined the staff of the Hudson's Bay Company, left this week-end with other HBC buyers for several weeks' visit in the eastern Canadian and New York markets. Mrs. Bartholomew's knowledge of interior decorating is wide and practical, having conducted her own business in this field in the city of Victoria during the past 15 years. It is a natural calling for she is the third generation of this well-known Victoria family who have been associated with home decorating and antique business. She is a graduate of the South Kensington School of London, Eng., also Rudolph Schaeffer of San Francisco, and has recently been granted membership in the American Institute of Decorators, signifying a professional standing enjoyed by few Canadians in the art of interior design and decoration.

Mrs. Bartholomew, on her return within the next three weeks, will be pleased to give helpful advice and suggestions on every phase of home planning and decorating and invites you to visit her in The Bay's studio of home planning and decorating on the fourth floor.

400 Scottish Veterans Of Two Wars Enjoy Biggest Annual Re-Union Party

Scottish veterans, young and old, pay a silent tribute to dead comrades.

Bay Street Armories was a gay scene Saturday night when present and former wearers of the uniform of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) over a period of more than three decades, gathered for their annual reunion.

It was the third since the close of the latest war and was classed as the biggest and most successful in regimental history. Attendance reached near the 400 mark.

Crowd was made up of the older soldiers of one and two-war service and the newer additions to the veterans' ranks from the 1939-45 conflict.

As usual when veterans get together to compare notes, gay times enjoyed together on leaves in England, Scotland and the continent and incidents of training camp and battlefield days were recalled. Tunes which became popular in both the first and second world wars were given a lusty going over at the sing-songs.

The evening's program, arranged by the regimental association presided over by James Sutherland, opened with the parade for the rum ration.

IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE

Then as members stood beside the dozen long tables with heads bowed, a searchlight was played on a cross and for two minutes' silent tribute was paid comrades who had fallen in battle, the pipe band under the direction of Pipe-Maj. Andrew Pollock playing the Lament.

The Last Post and Reveille followed.

The dinner was a mixed grill prepared and served by George Barber, also an ex-Scottish member. The dinner was voted a tasty success.

Lieut. Jack Grimmond proposed the toast to the King and Lt.-Col. R. D. Travis, regimental commander, proposed the toast to H.R.H. Princess Mary, colonel-in-chief of the regiment. The toast to the regiment was proposed by CSM. Gourlay.

Some senior officers of the regiment from World War I to the present time were seated at the head table.

Notice was given by Mr. Sutherland of the reunion of the Vancouver branch in the main hall city in the Hotel Georgia on Dec. 12. Local members were urged to attend.

Entertainers were Stan James, in charge of this end of the program, A. Jackman, Eric Chalmers, A. Alexander, John Kelly and Bill Emmerton.

James Strothard, John Kelly, W. G. McIntosh, H. A. Gray and H. P. Bell were others in charge of various features on the evening's program.

Available to members were lapel miniatures of the Old 16th hat badges. They can be secured at any time.

Says Power Shortage Due To Lack Of Water

OTTAWA (CP) — A general lack of sufficient water was responsible for Ontario's power shortage, Robert H. Saunders, Ontario Hydro-Electric chairman, said here Saturday night.

"No person can be blamed for the present shortage," he told the Ottawa Curling Club at the club's annual opening day dinner.

"The facts show Ontario would not have had to restrict use of power this year if the flow of water in our rivers had been anywhere near normal."

Mr. Saunders' explanation, in effect, countered a charge by Trade Minister Howe in London, Ont. Mr. Howe said George Drew, former premier of Ontario, was to blame for the power crisis.

Thanksgiving Day In U.S. Set For Nov. 25

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving Day. He urged citizens to "render generous assistance to the hungry and homeless in other lands, thus renewing our devotion to the cause of goodwill among men."

The President asked Divine guidance in helping to safeguard the "right to live in freedom and peace."

Canada's Air Force 'Pitifully Small'

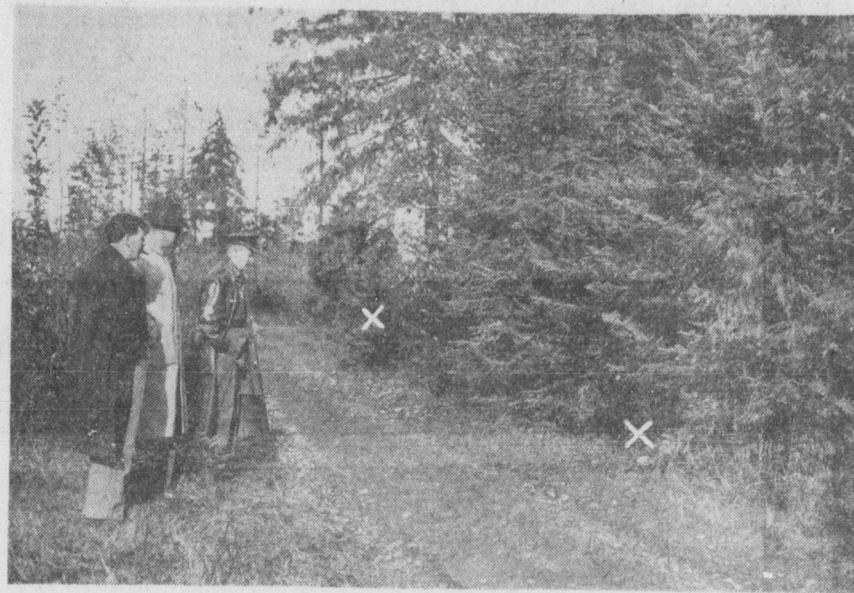

TORONTO (CP)—Air Marshal Robert S. Leckie, wartime chief of staff of the R.C.A.F., said Saturday night Canada's air force is "pitifully small" and reduced almost to the level of impotency.

For the next four or five years Canada will have to prepare for the eventuality of war, he told the Ontario Committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

"Fear of reprisals is the only thing that's holding the Russians back. Thank God we have the atomic bomb."

He said he was partially responsible for the decisions on the postwar strength of the air force. But after the war he had not been able to visualize the threat of new hostilities when implementing government policy designed to cut the strength of the R.C.A.F.

Cross on left is where Annita Piper, 11-year old sister of the slain man, said a man fired a gun, the bullet penetrating the left rear and right front window of the car in which they were riding, narrowly missing both of them. Cross on the right is where body of Piper wound up after second shot had killed him. Gordon Buck, 21, farm caretaker, is being held in custody in connection with the slaying.

Australian Bishop Preaches In Christ Church Cathedral

A visitor in Victoria Sunday was Rt. Rev. John S. Moyes, D.D., Bishop of Armidale, Australia. Homebound from the Lambeth conference held recently in London, he paused here before starting, with Mrs. Moyes, the last stage of the long journey aboard the liner Aorangi.

He preached the sermon at choral matins in Christ Church Cathedral yesterday which was attended by a large congregation. Drawing lessons from what he had seen in Europe and elsewhere, he spoke of the anxiety and uncertainty which grip millions of people in the deeply disturbed conditions of today. The only cure lay in a return by citizens everywhere to the great basic principles of Christianity. There would be hope if out of the present distress arose new faith, a new dedication of men's actions to the best in civilization, which was the flowering of the truths taught by the Master.

Armidale, see city of the diocese of that name, is approximately 230 miles north of Sydney and 80 miles inland from the Pacific coast of the state of New South Wales.

Bishop Moyes was born at Koolunga, South Australia. He received all his education in his native land, earning an M.A. at the University of Adelaide and taking a course at St. Barnabas Theological College, Adelaide. He served as rector of several parishes and from 1918 to 1920 was Chaplain of Commonwealth Forces. From 1925 to 1929 he was Archdeacon of Adelaide, and in 1929 was elected Bishop of Armidale.

Audubon Lecturer

William Ferguson of Omaha, well known through his syndicate feature, "This Curious World," will lecture at the Prince Robert House auditorium at 8 tonight. The meeting is sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society and the National Audubon Society.

His lecture program will be illustrated with superb color motion pictures depicting some of the mysteries behind nature's processes. He will also present some interesting facts and stories concerning birds, plants and flowers, as well as deer, beaver, porcupine, chipmunk, elk and others.

Mr. Ferguson is also an artist. He spent the first 18 years of his life on a Kansas farm. After a short time in art school, he became a cartoonist for farm newspapers in the Middle West. But the urge to draw pictures of birds and mammals, combined with a penchant for seeking out and learning interesting items of the world of nature, impelled him to devise a newspaper feature, "This Curious World." It is now a syndicate feature.

CRUSADE IN EUROPE

Five New Pieces Of Equipment Used In Sicily Aid Victory

During the final weeks of the Tunisian campaign, particularly after the outcome could be definitely foreseen, major staffs were busy planning our next campaign. As directed by the Casablanca Conference, this was to be the capture of Sicily.

At Casablanca the Sicily operation was decided upon for two reasons, the first of which was its great immediate advantage in opening up the Mediterranean sea routes. The second was that because of the relatively small size of the island its occupation after capture would not absorb unforeseen amounts of Allied strength in the event that the enemy should undertake any large-scale counter-attack.

Because of the estimated inability to supply several assault divisions and their reinforcements over the southern and eastern beaches, we studied and tentatively adopted a plan that contemplated assault by echelon, beginning in the southeast, followed by a second one in the south, and a third in the vicinity of Palermo on the north coast.

LST's And 'Ducks' Enable Plan Change

No one really liked the plan for echelon attack. Its complications, dispersion, and successive rather than simultaneous assaults were cited as risks outweighing the chance of defeat through lack of port facilities. Montgomery, especially, always a believer in the power concept, desired to throw heavy forces into the southeastern portion of the island. The supply staffs were again required to study the problem, and now they came to a more optimistic estimate than they had some weeks previously.

This change resulted from the unforeseen availability of a considerable number of LST's and the quantity production of the "duck," an amphibious vehicle that proved to be one of the most valuable pieces of equipment produced by the United States during the war. Incidentally, four other pieces of equipment that most senior officers came to regard as among the most vital to our success in Africa and Europe were the bulldozer, the jeep, the 2½-ton truck, and the C-47 airplane. Curiously enough, none of these is designed for combat.

While these plans were still in preparation, study indicated the desirability of first seizing the island of Pantelleria, lying roughly between Sicily and the "Gibraltar of the central Mediterranean" and was assumed by many to be unassailable.

Failure Would Bring Disheartening Effect

Many of our experienced commanders and staff officers strongly against attempting this operation, since any failure would have a disheartening effect on the troops to be committed against the Sicilian shore. However, Admiral Cunningham, in particular, agreed with me that the place could be taken at slight cost. We based our conviction upon the assumption that most Italians had had a stomachful of fighting and were looking for any good excuse to quit.

In the actual outcome the capture of Pantelleria was so easy—the garrison surrendered on June 11, just as our troops were getting into their assault boats from the larger ships—that few people had any inkling of the doubts and fears that had to be overcome in launching the operation.

Indeed, objection had been so pronounced that I resolved to make a personal reconnaissance immediately prior to the assault date in order to determine for myself that the defenses were sufficiently softened to assure success.

Admiral Cunningham and I boarded a British cruiser at Bone one evening, and during that night steamed eastward at full speed to join the squadron assembly near Pantelleria. Cunningham told me that the whole area was mined except for a narrow channel we were following, which had been swept. This prompted me to ask, "Are there no floating mines about?" His answer was, "Oh yes, but at this speed the bow wave will throw them away from the ship. It would be just bad luck if we should strike one."

The Prime Minister, who was then visiting with me in Africa, was very anxious to go along on this operation. I evaded direct reply but would never have agreed to his going, on the grounds that it involved needless risk for a man of his importance. But I had a difficult time indeed explaining to him afterward that Admiral Cunningham intended to participate. Two years later he reminded me that I had been very unfair to him on that occasion, especially as he had a personal financial stake in the enterprise.

Churchill Pays Bet He Lost To Eisenhower

A small wager between us had grown out of his estimate that there were no more than 3,000 Italians on the island. He offered to pay me five centimes each for all we captured in excess of that number. We took 11,000, and though I had naturally forgotten the joking wager, he paid up promptly, figuring out the exchange himself and remarking that at that rate (a twentieth of a cent each) he'd buy all the prisoners we could get.

In late May, a month before we were to attack Sicily, Prime Minister Churchill, with General

by Dwight D. Eisenhower

This is a condensed serialization of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe." It contains highlights of the book to be published November 22, 1948, by Doubleday & Company. Copyrighted by Doubleday & Company, Inc.

Planning The Next Step In The Mediterranean

Surrounded by British and American war leaders, Prime Minister Winston Churchill looks over a report at the Allied planning conference in North Africa. Grouped around Mr. Churchill are, left to right: Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary; Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, Britain's Chief of the Imperial General Staff; Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, Air Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean; Admiral Sir Andrew B. Cunningham, Naval Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean; Gen. Sir Harold L. Alexander, Deputy Commander-in-Chief of Allied Forces in North Africa; Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of U.S. Staff; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander-in-Chief Allied Forces in North Africa; and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Chief of British 8th Army (standing, extreme right).

Marshall and General Brooke, chief of the Imperial General Staff, came to my headquarters to discuss further the objectives of the Sicilian campaign, other than the mere capture of the island to assure free use of the Mediterranean sea route. There was something to be said for closing down large-scale activity in the Mediterranean, once we had Sicily in our grasp, and saving everything for the main operation in northwest Europe.

Wanted To Reconsider Cross-Channel Plan

In private conversation, however, Brooke told me that he would be glad to reconsider the cross-channel project, even to the extent of eliminating that bold concept from accepted Allied strategy.

He had commanded a corps during the short campaign on the Continent in 1940, both Alexander and Montgomery had served under him. Impulsive by nature, as became his Irish ancestry, he was highly intelligent and earnestly devoted to the single purpose of winning the war. When I first met him in November, 1941, he seemed to me adroit rather than deep, and shrewd rather than wise. But gradually I came to realize that his mannerisms, which seemed strange to me, were merely accidental, that he was sincere and, though he lacked that ability so characteristic of General Marshall, to weigh calmly the conflicting factors in a problem and so reach a rock-like decision, I soon found it easy to work with him.

He said that he favored a policy of applying our naval and air strength toward the blockading of Germany and the destruction of its industry but avoiding great land battles on the main fronts. He held the belief that in ground conflict in a large theatre we would be at a great disadvantage and would suffer tremendous and useless losses. He wanted to open no larger front than one we could sustain in Italy.

I do not know whether the Prime Minister agreed with the part of this opinion that favored the indefinite postponement of the cross-channel invasion, but he did want to pour into Italy the maximum amount of Allied forces available in the Mediterranean.

Any suggestion or intimation of abandoning Overlord could always be guaranteed to bring Marshall and me charging into the breach with an uncompromising, emphatic refusal to consider such an idea for an instant. Not only did both of us still believe in, and frequently repeat, all the basic reasons for originally adopting the Overlord concept as our principal strategic effort in Europe, but we closely examined every proposal for committing troops elsewhere in the light of the eventual effect of weakening or strengthening prospects of success in Overlord.

Because of the existence of splendid naval communications at Malta that place was chosen as our headquarters for the initial stages of the operation. Most of our air formations were crowded into the airfields of northeastern Tunisia, so the principal air headquarters had to remain in the vicinity of ancient Carthage.

General Alexander, Admiral Cunningham, and I all went to Malta a day or so before the at-

Malta then presented a picture far different from the one of a few months earlier, when it was still the target for a hostile air force that had little effective opposition. Malta had taken a fearful beating but the spirit of the defenders had never been shaken.

Navy Performs Task In Faultless Style

The ship convoys bringing the troops to their allotted places had to come from ports stretched throughout the length of the Mediterranean. The timing and final manoeuvring of the various naval columns had to be exactly performed in the narrow, mine-filled waters separating Sicily from the mainland and had to be done so as to keep the enemy in a state of confusion and indecision until the last moment. Admiral Cunningham, Admiral Hewitt, and all their subordinates performed the task faultlessly.

Everything was proceeding with seeming perfection until July 9, the actual day of the assault. Then the weather, which in that part of the Mediterranean is normally serene in summer, began to deteriorate so badly as to threaten our ability to land.

Since the wind direction was generally from the west, it was the southern beaches for which we were anxious. The eastern beaches would have the shelter of the island itself.

I spent some hours with Admiral Cunningham in his office, to which meteorological specialists brought frequent reports and forecasts. Naval personnel has a habit of referring to wind velocity in terms of "Force." It would come a man and say, "Force IV, sir," or "Force V, sir." For me this had to be translated into miles per hour, but I had no difficulty, watching Cunningham's face, in realizing that Force V was worse than Force IV. However, falling velocities were predicted for sundown and this cheered us, because if that tendency continued conditions by midnight should be satisfactory!

'Is Attack On Or Off?' Asks Marshall

Some of us went outside for a short walk, but we watched the wind indicators fearfully, almost prayerfully, because the hour was fast approaching when it would be impossible to turn back assaulting forces from their intended landings. A message came from General Marshall: "Is the attack on or off?" My reaction was that I wish I knew!

Evening approached with predictions indicating some slight improvement. We decided to proceed as planned, and I so radioed to General Marshall. My feeling was that, even if the forces on the southern coast should find it necessary to delay landing, those on the east would surely get ashore and we would have less confusion and disadvantage than would result from any attempt to stop the whole armada.

But the evening wore on and the wind velocity increased alarmingly. There was nothing we could do but pray, desperately.

The incident in which General George Patton slapped two soldiers in a base hospital took place during the Sicilian campaign. General Eisenhower's own story of what happened and what he did about it, including what General Patton wrote to him after the incident was over, is told for the first time in the tenth installment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published in the Victoria Daily Times tomorrow.

Shortly after the incident, Allied troops had completely overrun the island and had, in three places, established themselves on the mainland of Europe. The crusade in Europe was now in high gear.

Armistice Service At Ganges Cenotaph.

A Remembrance Day service was held at the Cenotaph here, with ministers of all denominations taking part.

Veterans, girl guides, boy scouts, brownies, cubs and members of the I.O.G.E. met at the Mahon Hall grounds and paraded to the cenotaph where wreaths and poppies were laid. The Last Post was played by bugler, Sgt. Bert Drysdale of Victoria. The annual Armistice Day dinner was held at Harbor House, with Major A. R. Layard in the chair. Guests of honor were Lt. Col. Macgregor Macintosh, Brigadier W. G. Colquhoun both of Victoria, and Col. A. B. Kropinski of Ganges.

A musical program followed the dinner. Those taking part were: J. M. Daniels, Col. Macintosh, H. Loosmore, F. Weldon, A. J. Eaton and T. Lowther. A dance was held at the Fulford Harbor Community hall with about 200 present. Music was provided by the Veteran's orchestra from Sidney and Claude Leigh was master of ceremonies. Supper was served by members of the W.L. with Mrs. A. Davies as convener.

Canadians Warned

OTTAWA (CP) — About 300 Canadians in north and central China have been officially warned "that they should consider the desirability of leaving unless they have compelling reasons to remain," the External Affairs Department said today. The warning was issued through the Canadian Embassy in Nanking. Its basis lay in the growing Communist military threat to those areas.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

START WORKING ON SUMMER PLANS

The long winter evenings are here! Now's the time to start those household jobs you've been thinking of all summer. Perhaps you're going to build an attic room... or a basement games room... or remodel the bathroom. If so, you'll be interested in Johns-Manville Flexboard... the asbestos building board of unlimited uses.

J-M Flexboard, in a pleasing grey finish, comes in large sheets 8 feet by 4 feet, which are easy to handle—easy to saw—easy to nail and can be bent to fit moderately curved surfaces. Made of asbestos, it is fireproof, rotproof and never needs paint to preserve it. Flexboard is ideal for many remodeling jobs, inside or outdoors.

Salt Spring Island Art Group Launches Pottery-Making Course

GANGES — Activities of the Salt Spring Island Art Group are ever widening, with not only two local "summer displays" to its credit but one in Victoria and an exhibit of some 40 water colors at the Vancouver Art Gallery at the present time.

A new venture has just been successfully launched by this small but active group, which during the past week held an intensive five-day course in pottery making with the co-operation of University Extension Department. The department sent over one of Vancouver's top-notch potters, Miss Mollie Carter, to instruct.

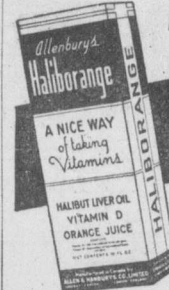

Several methods of pottery making have been taught, including "throwing" on the potter's wheel. The group now owns, co-operatively, a wheel on which practice by those wanting to learn will make steady improvement in the art. Various clays from different parts of the island have been tried out and more are still to be tested.

A field kiln copied from that of the famous Deichmann potters of New Brunswick is to be constructed for early use, but there is hope of an oil burning unit which will be a permanent asset for the firing of all sizes of pottery.

While most of the new pottery group are drawn from the housewives of the island, two men have joined and more of the latter have shown their interest by digging and preparing the clay, in planning to make individually-owned wheels.

1 A breakfast cereal made of two grains instead of one was big news in 1897. Everybody was talking about the distinctively-different Grape-Nuts flavor — achieved through a skillful combination of both wheat and malted barley and other fine ingredients uniquely blended and double baked.

2 Still high on top in popularity, that same glorious flavor is yours today in a grand flake cereal—POST'S GRAPE-NUTS FLAKES — as well as Post's Grape-Nuts.

3 And all this good two-grain nourishment is in every delightful serving of Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes: carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; other food essentials.

4 When you reach for Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes you get "gimme more" flavor, "up-and-at-'em" nourishment, and a choice of either regular or large economy packages that carry tested recipes for muffins, soufflés and other delicious cooked things made with those same curly, honey-golden flakes. Jacob Wied Faces Murder Charge At Assizes Here

Trial of Jacob E. Wied, charged with murder, opened in Criminal Assize Court today before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

Wied is accused of the knife-slaying of his wife, Evelyn. She was found suffering from a knife wound at 1025 Yates Street July 17. She died on the following morning at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Wied, wearing a dark brown suit and red tie stood calmly in the prisoner's box as the charge was read in court. He pleaded not guilty, through his counsel, Pat Sinnott.

Jurymen selected were: P. G. Flamank, E. A. Estlin, J. C. Eastwood, J. Lindsay, G. E. Bone, J. G. Dangerfield, R. L. King, I. E. Alcock, Alex Logie, R. Lindsay, R. Grant, R. J. Caldwell.

W. H. M. Haldane, counsel for the Crown, in his opening address said the Crown would try to prove that the blow which resulted in the death of Mrs. Wied was delivered by the accused.

It would also be shown, he said, that both the accused and

Mrs. Wied had been drinking prior to the incident.

Andrew Clark Thomas, machine operator, was the first witness called. He told the court he was a friend of the accused and his wife.

Mr. Thomas said Mrs. Wied was a heavy drinker and could "almost be called a chronic alcoholic." The couple were in the habit of arguing when under the influence of liquor, he said, otherwise they were a "loveable couple."

He related that on the day of the incident both Mr. and Mrs. Wied and himself, drank at the Tilleum Club. He added that both the accused and his wife also had a drink in the morning.

According to the witness, Mr. and Mrs. Wied argued over a $10 bill at the club. He said he did not pay much attention to what they were saying as it was not uncommon for them to be arguing about something.

Mrs. Wied left the club first, he said, "I expected to see them both that night."

"Would you say that the attitude of Mr. Wied toward his wife was one of toleration?" asked Mr. Sinnott.

"Yes," replied the witness. The case is continuing.

Deplores Lack Of Accommodation For Provincial Museum

Accommodation given to the Provincial Museum here was pitiful considering its importance as an educational institution, said T. P. O. Menzies, curator of the Vancouver Museum.

Mr. Menzies who visited the museum here today said British Columbia was on the whole backward in realizing the enormous value of museums as educational assets.

Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick had larger and more spacious museums, he said. Other provinces were planning larger buildings.

"In London the Natural History Department alone is as large as the Empress Hotel," he said. "In other districts of London museums have been erected primarily for educational purposes."

He pointed out that Russia was quick to realize the importance of museums as important educational institutions. "They have turned hundreds of buildings into museums," he said. "They play a great part in their educational system."

VICTORIAN CHATS WITH JAP HERO—Cmdr. Owen C. R. Robertson, G.M., R.D., R.C.N., of Victoria, commanding officer of the destroyer Cayuga, who arrived back here Saturday from Pearl Harbor, chats with Barney F. Hajiro, a former U.S. army private of Japanese ancestry, following a shipboard ceremony during which Hajiro was presented with the British Military Medal. The presentation was made aboard Cayuga by L. H. Whittall, British consul for the Territory of Hawaii, while the destroyer, one of five ships of the R.C.N. task force which visited Hawaii from Esquimalt, was in Honolulu. Greater Victoria Rejoices Over Arrival Of Elizabeth's Prince

The citizens of Greater Victoria are rejoicing today over the birth of a son to Princess Elizabeth, and messages of congratulations and best wishes are coming from all quarters.

Twenty-one gun salutes to the new prince were fired by the Royal Canadian Navy and the Esquimalt garrison of the Canadian Army, Sunday and today, and flags were flown high to mark the occasion.

The navy salute, fired from the cruiser Ontario at 3:45 Sunday afternoon, was the first in Canada, and many persons who had not already heard the news over the radio, knew when the big guns began to boom that Princess Elizabeth's child was born.

The army salute was fired at noon today from 25-pound guns of the Royal Canadian School of Artillery (Coast and Anti-Aircraft) at Work Point.

NAVY SHIPS DRESSED
Navy ships at Esquimalt were dressed with flags until sunset Sunday in honor of the baby prince, and on order from Ottawa, the crews of the warships stationed here today will "splice the main brace" as further recognition. The extra lot of rum for the sailors is a traditional celebration.

Included in the messages of congratulation was one from Premier Byron Johnson which was sent to W. A. McAdam, B.C. agent-general in London, to be forwarded to the Princess. It read:

"On behalf of the government and people of British Columbia, would you please convey to Her Royal Highness, Princess Elizabeth and His Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh, our heartfelt congratulations upon the birth of their son. News of this event was received here with great rejoicing, and the people of British Columbia share with their Royal Highnesses their unbounded pleasure on this happy occasion. In extending felicitations we also send our pledge for continued loyalty to the British throne."

ACTING MAYOR
Also included in the messages were four from Acting Mayor Ed. Williams and the reeves of the municipalities of Greater Victoria.

Acting Mayor Williams: "I am sure every heart in Victoria, as throughout the Empire, rejoices at the good news of the birth of a son to the popular Duke of Edinburgh, and our beloved Princess Elizabeth. May all three

Want Full Credit Given Teachers For Outside Experience

Teachers who come to British Columbia from other parts of Canada and who are eligible for permanent B.C. teaching certificates should be given full credit for outside experience on the Department of Education's grant scale, Vancouver Island teachers believe.

At the concluding session, Saturday, of their three-day convention here, the island teachers supported overwhelmingly a resolution to this effect.

Preamble of the resolution pointed out that the presence in B.C. of teachers from other provinces is definitely a good thing in view of the teacher shortage here and in view of the intimate knowledge of life in other parts of Canada which they bring with them.

It stated also that the act, as it now stands, discourages interchange of teachers between one province and another. This, it felt, is wrong. Teachers who move from province to province make a valuable contribution to Canadian unity, it said.

At present, the provincial grant scale provides that teachers coming to B.C. be given only half credit for experience outside the province.

Governor To Attend Olivier's 'Hamlet'

Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Banks will attend Victoria's premiere of Laurence Olivier's production of "Hamlet" which will open tonight at the Odeon Theatre. Premier Byron Johnson has also been invited to see the production along with many other prominent citizens.

The opening night will be given a Hollywood touch with Movietone taking pictures of the crowds attending.

The awe-inspiring film is expected to create a great deal of controversy. Critics have described it as one of the most memorable picture ever screened and "as a great acting performance of our time."

Remanded For Sentence On Liquor Sale Charge

Jack Davis, 536 Johnson St., was remanded for sentence till Tuesday in city police court to day after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor for sale.

Const. Arthur Dees of the city police force described the finding in Davis' apartment of wine, liquor and beer.

Under a bed, the constable said, he found seven wrapped bottles of rye and a wallet containing $171 in a stove were four bottles of loganberry wine, five more were in a drawer and another nine were found in a cupboard. Also found on the premises were five bottles of beer.

All these were on display in the courtroom.

Johnson Wires King Felicitations

Felicitations on his retirement today were forwarded by Premier Byron Johnson to King Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Here is a copy of the wire: "Please accept my warmest felicitations upon your retirement from the high and responsible position you have held with such distinction for so many years. I find words totally inadequate to express the admiration that is held for your splendid record of public service. I sincerely trust that your health has greatly improved and that you will be spared many years in which to enjoy the leisure period of your life. Once again I express the hope that Canada will be fortunate enough to receive from you the memoirs of your life which form a most important period in the history of Canada. With these felicitations go my sincere personal regards."

R. Davison, 90, Dies

Robert Davison, a resident of Victoria for the past 70 years, passed away Friday at his residence, 63 Gorge Road. He was in his 90th year.

Born in Yorkshire, England, Mr. Davison came to Canada as a youth.

Funeral service will be held at Thomson's Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 3. Interment will follow at Ross Bay.

Schoolteacher Dies

Miss Miriam Shirley Lowe, a teacher during the past 17 years at Mount Newton and Mount View High Schools, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday. She was 47 years of age.

Born in Staffordshire, Eng., Miss Lowe came to Victoria at age 10. She has lived lately at 1209 Crown Crescent.

Funeral services will be held at Sand's Mortuary on Wednesday afternoon at 3.30. Rev. T. G. Griffiths will officiate. Interment will be at the Royal Oak.

Municipalities To Get Dec. 15 $2,000,000 From Sales Tax

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb today reported that the Provincial government would distribute approximately $2,000,000 of the sale tax revenue to B.C. cities and municipalities on Dec. 15.

Under the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act provision was made to distribute among the 90-odd municipalities of the province one-third of the net revenue of the 3 per cent sales tax estimated at $12,000,000.

Provision was made for the sums to be distributed to the municipalities "substantially in the proportion that the sum of their respective school populations and their estimated municipal population in the case of city and district municipalities, and their estimated municipal populations only in the case of village municipalities, bears to the aggregate thereof."

In making the announcement Mr. Anscomb said that he realized the money would be of great benefit to the municipalities in their present fiscal period and he wanted to be of what assistance he could on that account.

TWO DISTRIBUTIONS A YEAR

He indicated that it was the government's intention to make two distributions a year in the future so that it would be easier for the municipalities to budget and finance. He expressed the hope that the revenue "would have a very beneficial effect on their ability to lower their taxes on real property so that the taxpayer could receive some direct benefit from the imposition of the levy."

Originally, Mr. Anscomb recalled, the Union of B.C. Municipalities had asked that the tax be imposed for their benefit for particular purposes, but the government had refrained from stipulating that it be used for any specific cost of municipal operation, leaving the various local governments to use the money as they saw fit and best.

The sales tax, provided for in legislation passed by the B.C. Legislature last spring, came into effect July 1.

REVENUE ESTIMATES VARY

To date the government has given no indication of the sums which have been collected to date. While the legislation was being considered it was officially estimated that the tax would provide $12,000,000 but unofficial estimates placed the revenue as high as $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually.

Decision of the government to distribute $2,000,000 from the tax to the municipalities followed recent representations to the provincial government by the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Wilmer Holt Gold, Youbou, was sentenced in city police court today to one month on each of five charges of stealing articles of clothing from various city stores. The sentences are to run concurrently.

J. G. Rutan, counsel for Gold, brought in three character witnesses and made a plea for leniency for the youth.

In passing sentence, Magistrate H. C. Hall advised Gold to keep out of trouble and said he was making the sentence light to give him another chance.

Victoria United Host City Eleven Saturday

With first half honors safely in the hands of North Shore, Victoria United will go into training this week for an engagement Saturday at Athletic Park against Vancouver City. This match will close out the first half of the Coast League football campaign. United lost all chance to overhaul North Shore in Vancouver last Saturday, dropping a 4 to 1 decision to St. Andrews.

In a second match on the mainland New Westminster Royals failed to hold a 3 to 0 lead to wind up in a 3 to 3 deadlock with Vancouver City. This was a second half fixture.

Following the United-City engagement the Coast League clubs, along with teams from the Vancouver and District League, will usher in the Anderson Cup competition.

United received a tough break Saturday, when with the score tied 1 to 1 in the first half the local club was robbed of a potential goal through the referee refusing to recognize a flagrant foul in the penalty area. According to officials of the United it was definite hands.

After some 10 minutes of scrambling soccer, John Halley put Scots out front when he shot through a maze of players' legs, giving United goalie Joe Travis little chance to save.

MORGAN SCORES

Noel Morgan tied the count midway through the half on a beautiful first timer after Joe Robbins had put him in the clear. Scots' net-minder Dave Simpson came out and cut the angle but Morgan had enough room to catch the rigging.

St. Andrews dominated the game in the second half and only the spectacular netminding of Travis kept him mates in the running.

Halley scored the winner at the 25-minute mark. Taking a pass from Brian Philley, he had his first attempt blocked by Travis. However, the Victoria goalkeeper failed to hold the ball, allowing Halley to come in and put the rebound home.

A minute later, George Steele, who missed a penalty kick in the first half, made it 3 to 1, scoring on a pass from Don Matheson. Philley notched the final marker on a set-up play by Steele.

After building up a 3 to 0 margin with only 15 minutes of play remaining Royals faded badly against Vancouver City. Two goals by centre-forward John Winning and a third by Bill Arthur gave the Royals what looked like a safe lead. City roared back and Freddie Whitaker broke through for two fast counters and before the final whistle Joe Jordan fired the equalizer.

Carle Rodway Dies

Secretary of the Victoria and District Football League for two years, Carle Rodway, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday.

Born in England Rodway, aged 53, was a resident of Victoria for 17 years. He was a veteran of the first world war and a member of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of McCall Brothers.

Saskatoon Hilltops Crowned Western Junior Grid Champs

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Hilltops today stand as western Canada's representative in the east-west junior football final—first official playoff since 1933. They will meet Hamilton Wildcats for the Dominion crown Nov. 20 on the home grounds of the Ontario team.

Hilltops Saturday left only the blue in Vancouver's vaunted Blue Bombers, 1947 unofficial Canadian champions, as they crushed the coast team 27 to 0 in a sudden-death final here for the western title.

Working smoothly from their T-formation, Hilltops scored converted touchdowns in each quarter and added a field goal in the final session in gaining Saskatoon's second western junior crown in the city's history. Saskatoon Saskatchewan captured the western junior championship in 1922.

Denny Prince, Hilltop captain, and Will Godfrey spearheaded Saskatoon's attack. Prince cracked over for two major scores while Godfrey tallied one touchdown, converted four, and kicked a field goal. Frankie Szombathy scored the Saskatchewan club's other major.

More than 2,700 fans sat through chilly weather to watch the two teams battle over a snow-covered gridiron. Saskatoon rolled up 19 first downs to Vancouver's six to carry most of the play.

Esquimalt, Chinese In Senior Cage Tilt

Esquimalt A.A. and Chinese Students will meet in a senior basketball game at the High School gym tonight.

Canadiens Win Rough Hockey Clash

In a recent National Hockey League game at Montreal between Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks, play was livened up by fights, arguments and accidents. The above photo was taken in the first period after Kenny Reardon had bowled over Doug Bentley of the Hawks and it took a while before the latter was revived to continue in the game. Bentley (stretched out on the ice) apparently hit his head going down. Looking over the injured players are George Robertson of Canadiens and Chicago players Bill Gadsby, Ralph Natrass and Bill Mosienko. The official is Sibby Munday. Canadiens won 4 to 1.

Calgary Grid Supporters Plan Western 'Invasion' For Final

CALGARY (CP)—Toronto is going to be treated to a routin, football parade—western style—come Nov. 27.

Elaborate plans for a wild west "invasion" of the Ontario capital are under way here today as red-hot grid fans from this foothills city prepare to give all-out support to their beloved Stampeders' bid for Dominion football laurels.

Stampeders will leave here Thursday night to set up training camp at Oakville, Ont., for the Grey Cup classic against either Ottawa Roughriders or Hamilton Tigers. The undefeated western champions will train at Appleby College in Oakville for one week prior to the grid final.

Stampeder officials, determined to leave no stone unturned in their effort to bring the coveted Grey Cup to Calgary, decided on the eastern training camp at an executive meeting last night.

More than 200 fans—all wearing cowboy garb complete with 10-gallon Stetsons and colorful bandanas—will arrive in Toronto aboard a "Stampeder Special" train the day before the big game. Also aboard will be horses and a chuckwagon.

Organizers promise the parade the day of the game will be something to make eastern "tenderfoots" pop-eyed.

Tentatively scheduled to be held from the Royal York Hotel in Toronto to Varsity Stadium, it will be complete with cowboys, the horses and chuckwagon, and perhaps even a few Indians in ceremonial regalia.

TO SERVE FLAPJACKS Stampeder will leave their

Oakville training camp in time to join the parade and be escorted to the game.

Some of the cowboys are hoping to ride their mounts right into the stadium and up into the grandstand. The chuckwagon, however, will remain just outside the stadium's main gates. There the chuckwagon crew will serve up "flap-jacks" for anyone wishing to sample western fange grub—and all for free, too.

The main body of Stampeder will arrive in Toronto next Sunday and leave immediately for Oakville by bus.

Coach Les Lear, quarterback Keith Spait and club president Tom Brook are expected to leave earlier so as to arrive in Ottawa in time to scout the eastern final between Ottawa and Hamilton next Saturday.

Ottawa Riders Battle Hamilton For Title

While Calgary Stampeders watch and wait, Ottawa Roughriders and Hamilton Tigers will battle it out for the eastern Canada football championship.

They'll meet in a sudden-death game in Ottawa Saturday, the winner meeting Calgary for the Dominion championship the following Saturday at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

Ottawa took the marbles in the Big Four by hitting Montreal Alouettes 15 to 7 in the second game of a total-points series before a crowd of 16,000 at Ottawa. Hamilton crushed Toronto Beavers Indians 31 to 1 to take the Ontario Union title before a crowd of 10,000 at Hamilton.

As a happy crowd of graduates moved in for the University of Toronto's first homecoming week-end, the Blues upset the mighty Mustangs from the University of Western Ontario 23 to 8 before a crowd of 20,000 at Varsity Stadium. It was the Mustangs' first loss in 28 games and forced a playoff for the intercollegiate title, the first since 1938 when McGill defeated Western for the championship.

The playoff will be a sudden-death game Saturday, also at Toronto's Varsity Stadium. Queen's beat McGill 10 to 7 and wound up the season in third place in the league with McGill languishing in the cellar.

For Ottawa it was sweet revenge as well as its first championship in seven years. Riders had been beaten 21 to 19 by Montreal Thursday in the first game of the series but won the round 34 to 28.

COMMANDING LEAD Roughriders led 15 to 0 midway through the last quarter when Alouettes finally hit the scoring column on a touchdown by Bob Cunningham, a convert by Steve Nemeth and a single by Ches McCance.

Ottawa scored on touchdowns by Matt Anthony and Tony Golab, two singles by Howie Turner, a convert and a single by Eric Chipper and a single by Golab.

The Tigers win was their 11th straight. The Toronto crew led once in the game, when Don Crowe kicked a single in the first quarter. But minutes later Tigers shook Jack Stewart across for a touchdown and the parade was on.

Playing Coach Frank Filchick fired touchdown passes to Doug Smith and George Ferteyga and ran 35 yards for one

Notre Dame, Army Roar From Behind to Protect Records

NEW YORK (CP)—Mighty Army staved off defeat in the last 30 seconds and Notre Dame was forced to come from behind in the last quarter as the two football titans of the United States college gridiron remained unbeaten and untied Saturday.

Overwhelming favorite seeking its eighth straight triumph, Army was forced to fight from behind three times against powerful but once-beaten Pennsylvania to win 26 to 20. With 30 seconds to go Arnold Galiffa, Army quarterback, fell back and fired a 15-yard touchdown pass to John Trent, an end, beyond Penn's goal line to settle the issue.

A pair of unknowns brought Notre Dame the touchdown it badly needed to subdue Northwestern 12 to 7. The last quarter touchdown was the result of he combined efforts of substitutes Bill Gay and John Landry and came after Art Murakowski put Northwestern ahead 7 to 6 on a 90-yard run when he intercepted a Notre Dame pass.

The game was the 26th in a row without defeat for the Irish and it put Coach Frank Leahy's name in the records alongside that of the great Knute Rockne.

WALKER'S KICKING WINS

Touchdowns were scarce for Southern Methodist which gained a 14 to 12 verdict over Arkansas as the great Doak Walker kicked the two extra points that meant victory. Alabama turned a fumble and an intercepted pass into two touchdowns it needed to defeat Georgia Tech 14 to 12 and Mississippi simply outsped Tennessee 16 to 13, although the decisive points came on a safety.

In contrast Michigan, North Carolina, Duke, California, Penn State and Ohio State clicked off seven-pointers with the regularity of robots for lopsided victories.

In between the two extremes there were such thrillers as Cornell's 27 to 26 victory over Dartmouth; Yale's rugged display before losing to Princeton 20 to 14; Pittsburgh's 20 to 13 conquest of Purdue; and Clemson's 21 to 14 triumph over Wake Forest that kept the Tigers unbeaten and in the bowl forefront. Georgia spilled Auburn 42 to 14 to remain at the top of the Southeast Conference.

California won its ninth game of the season by crushing Washington State 44 to 14 and continues to hold the Rose Bowl spotlight with Oregon which Friday night downed U.C.L.A. Southern California stopped Washington 32 to 7.

Denver kept Utah State from clinching a Big Six title, 41 to 6, but Colorado A. & M. wrapped up second place with a 20 to 0 verdict over Brigham Young.

Argentina Track Fans Get Real Mad When Favorite Loses

LA PLATA, Argentina (AP) Fans didn't like the way the first race was run at La Plata race-track Saturday.

Item won the race, but the crowd felt that the heavily-backed Albor, which came in second, had been given a poor ride by Jockey Luis Martinez. So: One person was wounded by a bullet, and an inspector employed by the track was held on a charge of using firearms; angry bettors jumped on to the track, smashed windows in the stands and burned newspapers in an effort to set fire to the installations. Police eventually restored order.

Former Regina Buddies Reunited With Rangers

NEW YORK (AP)—The lanky, redheaded centre and the little dark-haired rightwinger hadn't been on the ice together for two years—and that was in junior ranks.

But Sunday night Regina-born Alan (Red) Staley and Dunc Fisher brought cheers from the hard-to-please National Hockey League crowd of 15,252 at Madison Square Garden with their smooth passing plays.

The stars of Regina Pats in 1946-47 were able to push the puck only once into the well-guarded Toronto Maple Leaf net to tie the score 2 to 2 in the first period of the 4 to 4 tie game. But they led the New York Rangers to Walter (Turk) Broda's premises time and time in the thrill-packed tussle.

Staley's assist on that close-in tally was his fourth of the day. During the afternoon he scored three assists to help his New York Rovers of the Quebec Senior Hockey League defeat Shawinigan Falls Cataracts 5 to 3. Not until after the Q.S.H.L. game did 20-year-old Staley learn he would make his N.H.L. debut last night.

He was called up by Ranger Coach Frank Bouche to alleviate a New York injury crisis.

THREE-GAME TRIAL "The return of the Rangers' injured players may send Staley back to the Rovers. The latest word, however, was that he was up for a three-game tryout."

"I've been telling them for weeks that Staley was the man for the job," the 21-year-old, rosy-cheeked Fisher said in an interview. He joined Rangers at the end of last season after playing a stellar role with New Haven Ramblers of the American Hockey League.

The reticent Staley, who played with the Pats last year, said he had not dared to hope he would find himself in a Ranger uniform this season.

"It sure was a surprise," said Staley, recalling that he and Fisher had gone to Regina Technical School together and traveled with the same gang in their hometown.

Detroit Red Wings came out of a week-end of heavy action still on top of the heap in the National Hockey League, but the dog-fight for the loop leadership has become even tighter.

The Wings invaded Chicago and whipped the Black Hawks 3 to 1 Sunday night in their only week-end contest, while Montreal Canadiens split their two week-end contests and Boston Bruins won their only game, a 3 to 2 triumph over Canadiens in the Hub Sunday night.

The result left the Wings in first place with 15 points, two more than Boston and Montreal who are deadlocked in the second slot with 13 each.

In other week-end fixtures, Toronto Maple Leafs were bounced by Chicago 6 to 3 right at home in the Queen City, while Montreal handed Rangers a 3 to 1 setback in New York in a pair of Saturday games, and the Leafs moved to New York to earn a 4 to 4 draw with the Rangers Sunday night.

A crowd of 16,984 Chicago Stadium fans saw the Hawks hold Detroit to a 1 to 1 standoff in the first period, but the Wings rallied for single goals in each of the last two sessions to romp home in front.

Jimmy McFadden, Jerry Couture and Sid Abel scored the Detroit goals, while Gaye Stewart hammered a 30-footer past goalie Harry Lumley for the lone Hawk counter.

BRIMSEK BRILLIANT

Only some sensational work between the pipes by Frankie Brimsek saved the Bruins from a beating by Montreal Sunday night.

Bill Durnan had only 19 stops to make in the Canadian cage compared to 34 the Flying Frenchmen flung at Brimsek, but the final score read 3 to 2 for Boston.

Sophomore winger Howard (Rip) Rolfe notched both the Hab's markers, while Jimmy Peters, Milt Schmidt and Kenny Smith collected the Boston goals.

In New York Saturday, veteran Joe Carveth sparked Montreal to their 3 to 1 triumph over Rangers by banging home two goals. Defenceman Glen Harmon opening the scoring for the Habs by blasting a 30-footer past goalie Chuck Rayner. Eddie Kullman scored Rangers' lone goal.

Any hopes manager Connie Smythe had that Toronto Leafs would make mince meat of Chicago at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday night were given a rude jolt by the Hawes who upset the defending Stanley Cup champions 6 to 3 for their first road victory of the season. Sugar Jim Henry was spectacular in the Chicago nets.

The Chicago marksmen were Metcalf, Pryor, Adam, Brown, Jim Conacher, Gus Bodnar, Bep Guidolin and Gaye Stewart, while Max Bentley, Howie Meeker and Harry Watson hit the target for Toronto.

Stellar netminding by veteran Turk Broda helped the Leafs to hold Rangers to a 4 to 4 stalemate in New York Sunday night.

Right-winger Bill Ezinicki led the scoring parade for Leafs with a goal and two assists, while former Ranger Cal Gardner was right behind with a goal and an assist.

Harry Watson and Ted Kennedy sniped the other Leaf counters, while Penti Lund with two, Eddie Kullman, who scored the tying marker in the third session, and Dunc Fisher collected the Ranger tallies.

Ted Lindsay Out Of Action For Month

TORONTO (CP)—Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings, only unanimous choice on last season's National Hockey League all-star team, will be out of action for at least a month, it was learned today.

Lindsay received a fractured left foot against Boston Bruins last Thursday. Wearing crutches, he watched Saturday night's Toronto-Chicago game here before going on to his home at Kirkland Lake, Ont.

Joe Carveth Gains Tie For Third In Ice Scoring Race

Joe Carveth, veteran Montreal right-winger, picked up two goals Saturday night to move into third-place tie with Canadian teammate Billy Reay, who added an assist in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Both have 11 points. Grant Warwick, Boston winger, managed to stay on top of the ladder by picking up an assist Sunday night to give him 14 points, while linemate Eddie Sandford remained in second spot with 12 points.

Leaders follow: G. A. Pts. Warwick, Boston, 14; Sandford, Boston, 12; Reay, Montreal, 11; Carveth, Montreal, 11; Babando, Boston, 5; 10; D. Bentley, Chicago, 4; 10; Kennedy, Toronto, 5; 5; 10.

Intermediate Soccer Race Tightens As Eagles Nip Golds

Eagles threw the intermediate soccer league race into a four-team affair Saturday by knocking off the Victoria Golds, 2 to 1, while Oak Bay was taking the measure of the winless Saanich Indians, 5 to 2.

Net result left Golds and the idle Douglas Tire eleven in a tie for top place with eight points, Oak Bay second, one point behind, and Eagles third with five points. Douglas Tire and Eagles have a game in hand over the other clubs.

Eagles opened the scoring with Jim Turner finding the net in the first half. A second-half marker by White put Eagles into a 2 to 0 margin and Golds could not get back into the game despite the fact they got a gift goal when the ball bounced into the net off an Aerle back.

Oak Bay scored three second-half goals to break a 2 to 2 tie in the defeat of Saanich Indians.

Nanaimo Clippers In Second Ice Win

NANAIMO (CP)—Scoring four goals in the initial period, Nanaimo registered their second win in the Pacific Coast Senior Amateur Hockey League Saturday night defeating University of British Columbia Thunderbirds 7 to 2.

Bill Montgomery and Tom McLean were standouts for Nanaimo while Lloyd Torfason and Wagner scored the Birds' counters.

Gardner (Ezinicki), 19:29. Penalties: Leswick, Barilko.

Second Period—6, New York, Lund (Albright, Raleigh), 3:37; 7, Toronto, Watson (Ezinicki), 19:44. Penalties: Thomson, Gardner, Bentley, Meeker.

Third Period—8, New York, Kullman (Leswick), 6:12. Penalty: Shero.

Cougars Slaughter Eagle-Times

Al Denoni Stars In Season's Grid Final; Mogul Retires

Local sport fans who stayed away in large numbers from Saturday's Canadian Football game at Macdonald Park missed the best game of the year as Lou Mogul's Cougars whipped the Eagle-Times Athletic Club of Vancouver for a decisive 28 to 5 triumph.

The victory which marked the fifth game between the two clubs was Cougars third of the series and gave them possession of the Jack Fox Trophy, emblematic of the British Columbia senior football championship.

In running up the one-sided victory, Cougars scored in every period. The attack was sparked by the fine line play of Mogul, making his final appearance on the gridiron, Al Denoni, who scored two majors, Bud and Fred French, and end Bill O'Connell.

Mogul was opening up huge holes in the Vancouver line and the speedy Victoria backs ripped through for many long gains. Fred French was unerring in the aerial attack hitting his receivers with long and short passes, while Bud French was the lad who carried the lion's share of the ball-toting duties.

Cougars opened the scoring in the first period with Bud French packing the ball for 53 yards on six plays for the score. Tom McKeachie converted.

FUMBLES HURT

A fumble by Eagle-Times set up the next Cougar major in the second period. Taking the ball on the Vancouver 30-yard line, Fred French shot a long pass to right end O'Connell who took it in the clear on the 11 and raced over unmolested. The attempted conversion was blocked.

A sensational pass from playing coach Bill Surphiss to Patterson—good for 20 yards—caught the Cougars flatfooted and Patterson raced through the tertiary and romped all the way for 50 yards and Vancouver's only touchdown of the game.

DENONI SCORES TWICE

The next break came Victoria's way shortly before the half ended. Surphiss, attempting to pass from his own 12-yard line, was hit hard by the Cougar forwards and fumbled. Denoni dribbled the loose ball to near the sidelines then scooped it up and raced over for a major near the end. The conversion attempt was again blocked, leaving Cougars on the long end of a 16 to 5 score at the half.

Fred French opened up with an aerial attack as the second half got under way and connected to Denoni on three attempts to put the ball on the Vancouver two-yard line. Mogul then fumbled the ball when attempting to go over for the major and Vancouver recovered.

On the next play Vancouver fumbled and Denoni recovered over the line for his second major. Fred French passed to Denoni for the extra point.

The last score for the Cougars came in the dying moments of the final quarter when Fred French intercepted a Vancouver pass and ran 30 yards to score. French ran the ball over for the extra point.

Manitoba Softball Group Reinstated

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reinstatement of the Manitoba softball Association was announced Sunday when the Western Canada Softball Association concluded its annual meeting.

Officers elected for the coming year: J. Stewart Fraser of Vancouver, president; E. K. Yost, Winnipeg; J. Harper Parry, Moose Jaw, and Clare Hollingsworth, Edmonton, vice-presidents.

The Manitoba association was suspended for failure of its men's and women's teams to participate in the western interprovincial playoffs last summer.

Permission Granted To Move Newark Club

NEW YORK (AP)—International League directors granted permission Sunday for the transfer of the Newark Bears baseball franchise to another city.

The New York Yankees, owners, have announced the franchise is for sale. There has been talk that the club would be moved to Reading, Pa., formerly an International League member.

All members of the Timber Service senior A softball club are requested to attend an important meeting of the club at the British Public Schools Club tonight at 8. Uniforms will be turned in at the meeting.

Foreman's Two Goals Give Esquimalt Win

Centre-forward Doug Foreman's two goals in the second half earned Esquimalt a 4 to 2 victory over Canadian Legion in Sunday's Victoria and District League soccer match. Despite the rain and wind the fixture attracted a good crowd to Bullen Park. The match closed out the first half and earned Esquimalt the distinction of finishing with the fine record of five wins and one draw to take the honors.

In Saturday's engagement Victoria West defeated Oak Bay 3 to 1 to earn runner-up honors, finishing four points back of the leaders. Oak Bay was third and Canadian Legion in the cellar.

Legion opened the scoring against Esquimalt with Carmichael beating goalie Wally Rowe from a free kick just outside the penalty area. Minutes later Jenkins and Shubrooke combined with the former finishing off the play with the tying goal. Shubrooke made it 2 to 1 for Esquimalt but before halftime Duncan broke in the clear to score with a lovely shot that completely fooled the Esquimalt defence.

Second half saw Foreman fire two goals to decide the match. The first came on a pass from Musgrave and the second on a cross from Shubrooke.

WESTS WIN
Victoria West came from behind to notch up a win over Oak Bay Saturday. Early in the first half Elmer Hodder accepted a pass from Arnie Ferguson and fired a shot past goalie Vince Clarkson. Wests applied the pressure, and were successful in tying the score, McConaghy taking a pass through the middle to flick the ball past goalie Ken Wright. Before the halftime whistle Wests moved into the lead, Don Knappett taking Scott's goalmouth lob and finding no trouble hitting the hemph.

Ten minutes after play opened in the second half Doug Gent was put in the clear by McConaghy and made it 3 to 1. Before the close the Bays passed up several good scoring opportunities, Ferguson shooting wide a couple of times while Oxley hit the upright from close in.

Calgary Buffaloes Head Junior League

Calgary Buffaloes today head the Western Canada Junior Hockey League pack, thanks to a 5 to 3 overtime victory over Medicine Hat Tigers Saturday night. In the other league game, Regina Pats shaded Moose Jaw Canucks 5 to 4.

Smooth-skating Sid Finney got the winner early in the extra period while other Calgary goals were divided among Barry Milton, John Michaluk, Bruce McDonald and Gunner Carlson. Medicine Hat scorers were Doug Hage, Brad Gray and Gerald Barrie.

It was the Buffs seventh straight victory and gave Lorne Carr's smooth-skating sextette a two-point edge over the second-place Canucks.

Heaney's Win, 1 To 0; Esquimalt Teams Tie

Chalking up their fourth shutout in five starts, Heaney's moved into sole possession of first place in the juvenile soccer first division yesterday by edging Vets of France, 1 to 0, on a goal scored directly from a corner kick by LeBus.

It was Heaney's fifth game of the season without defeat and the first loss of the year for the veterans club.

Walker, Robbins and Pynn of Heaney's and Erb, Parker and Allen for Vets were the pick of two good eleventh.

In the other first division game Esquimalt A.A. and Esquimalt Meat Market played to a 2 to 2 tie. It was the fourth tie of the season for the latter.

Two brothers, George and Gerald Adams, playing on opposite teams, did all the scoring. George counted one in each half for the meat dealers with Gerald matching that performance for the Athletics.

In a scheduled second division contest, Greneks got two points by default.

HAT TRICK

Tillicums blanked Esquimalt Merchants, 3 to 0, in a third division game as Jack Paxton scored all three goals.

Trouncing St. Louis College, 4 to 0, Carey's kept their undefeated streak alive in a fourth division match while in fifth division tilts, K. of P. shut out Clarke's Athletics, 4 to 0, and the Y.M.C.A. tripped Golden Leaf Bakery, 3 to 0.

Lethbridge Takes Over Third Place In Prairie Hockey

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs drew away from the idle Calgary Stampede and took over sole possession of third place in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League standings with an easy 7 to 3 victory over Saskatoon Quakers here Saturday night before a capacity crowd of more than 3,000 fans.

Feature of the otherwise one-sided game was a verbal battle between Bill Hunter, manager and coach of the Quakers, and referee Davey Davidson in the third period over the alleged tripping of a Quaker player behind the Lethbridge blue line.

The upshot of the argument, which lasted five minutes, was the ousting from the arena of Hunter by Davidson. The fiery Quaker coach treated the crowd to a lengthy display of nose-thumping as he grudgingly left the ice.

Ken Simpson, Grant Hall and Roy Heximer scored twice each for the Leafs while Bob Kirkpatrick rounded out the scoring. Stevens Livingstone and Yaschuk scored for the Quakers.

'Y' In Sixth Victory; Eagles Rout Pro Pats

With Johnny Clark running wild for the third straight game and scoring 25 points for his night's work, Reg Clarkson's unbeaten Y.M.C.A. senior A hoopers Saturday night whipped K.V.'s 59 to 44, to register their sixth victory of the season and take an eight-point lead in the standings.

K.V.'s loss, coupled with the surprising but deserving triumph of Eagles over the Pro Patria aggregation, 53 to 39, left the three clubs tied for second place in the league with records of two wins and four losses.

In scoring the 15-point win over K.V.'s the "Y" squad had quite a battle for the first half of the game but in the second half K.V.'s faded before the smooth-working association club.

Clark was continually a thorn in the side of the orangeshirts as he used his height and long reach to advantage under the hoop. When not counting field goals, Clark could usually be found on the free throw line as the desperate K.V.'s fouled him time and time again. A better performance from the free throw strip and Clark would have easily hit the 30-point mark.

K.V.'S LEAD

K.V.'s started off as if they were going to topple the "Y" from the unbeaten ranks by moving into a 13 to 10 first quarter lead. Play was fairly even in the second canto with the "Y" getting a better percentage from the field to establish a 26 to 22 margin at the half.

A quick spurt early in the third period put Y.M.C.A. in front by 15 points and the league leaders maintained that edge through until the final bell.

CURTIS SHINES

Overlooked in the "Y" victory was the splendid scoring job of K.V.'s Elmer Curtis, who last year played for the senior B team. Curtis couldn't be stopped by the "Y" and racked up 21 points for his efforts from the bucket position.

The youthful Eagles up from the intermediate A ranks gave the in and out Pro Pats a real going over in the first game of the senior A twin bill.

Gar Taylor's quintette, which just hasn't got any height—only two of the squad bettering the six-foot mark—outplayed the veterans' five with the exception of the first four minutes of the third period when Pro Pats made their only bid for victory.

Eagles got majority of rebounds from both boards and were decidedly more accurate from long range and from the free throw lane.

LEAD THROUGHOUT

After leading 21 to 14 at the half Eagles saw their margin cut to 23 to 21 when the vets rallied momentarily. But a 12-point spree as against a lone field goal for the vets in the next four minutes put the Eagles out of range and the issue was never in doubt.

Bob Long, the man with the howitzer shot, paced the Aerie quintette in the upset win with 12 points. Bernie Anderson turned in a useful game for 11 points with Jim Ransom adding 10.

Leon Hall was the best player on the floor for the vets, scoring 11 points for second place to Ernie Fox, who notched a total of 13.

Hepcats romped to an easy 32 to 12 win over Esquimalt Genii in a junior girls' preliminary.

Teams and scorers follow:

K.V.'s—McCaskey 4, Curtis 21, R. Anderson 2, P. Ransom 8, McKay 4, Castner 2, Prior, Watson 2.

Authors' Meeting

Canadian literature was the subject of an address given by Mrs. Ross Napier to the local branch of the Canadian Authors' Association.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Napier was moved by Mrs. R. E. Breach.

Mrs. Hope Kerr gave a talk on the writers' conference held in connection with the summer school of arts in Banff this season.

Mrs. Ebbs-Canavan told of satisfactory progress in the endeavor of her committee to obtain a memorial for R. E. Gosnell, first provincial librarian. They were practically assured that a plaque and portrait in his honor would soon be unveiled in the Parliament Buildings.

Mrs. H. W. Maunsell, president of the association, was in the chair.

Extension Telephones Again Available but in Limited Quantity

The Telephone Company is once again installing extension telephones, but the number of telephones available for this purpose is limited. However, further shipments during the next few months should relieve this situation, and if subscribers who wish to obtain extension telephones will notify the Telephone Company's business office now, their names will be placed on file and the work will be done as telephones become available.

Some people who have been unable to get telephone service of any kind may wonder why the telephones now being offered for extension service could not be used to give them main service. The answer is that the telephones are only used for extension service when shortages of central office equipment, cable, etc., prevent them being used to give main service. The providing of main service continues to be our principal concern. Shortages of cable and central office equipment are still acute, and are the principal reason why the waiting list for main service in our territory still contains over 25,000 names.

Lively Discussion Of British Steel Nationalization Bill

LONDON (CP)—The bitter political fight in the history of the present parliament will begin in the House of Commons tomorrow with the start of the three-day debate on second reading of the bill to nationalize the £200,000,000 ($800,000,000) iron and steel industry.

The bill will complete the program of nationalization announced by Labor Party in the 1945 general election. It probably still will be an issue when the next election is held in 1950.

CALLING SOCIALISM

Government critics call it "stark socialism." Other nationalization measures already passed, covered fuel, industries, transport and services or institutions which could be called public utilities and therefore always were more or less under government control.

Iron and steel is looked upon as a triumph of free enterprise, developed by private capital, working in cheerful co-operation with its employees, producing record quantities of materials essential to Britain's recovery. Critics of the government contend that any interference, even through the proposed public ownership of company shares, will spell trouble.

But Supply Minister George Strauss, Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, will argue that the industry cannot safely be left in private hands.

Already Labor spokesmen have said the industry's production achievements are largely due to the employees who work diligently in anticipation of nationalization.

In the House they will set forth that this vital industry, if left in private hands, might limit output in the interests of profits or operate as a restrictive costly monopoly.

The bill would authorize the government to take over shares of 170 companies, but Labor authorities say there would be no interference with the actual operations of the industry. The government hopes that management and workers would continue to produce as much or more than at present.

CO-OPERATION EXPECTED

The Liberals, who have approved of some nationalization measures, are expected to back the Conservatives on this occasion.

Although the present directors and management of companies will be retained if they wish to stay, the opposition will say these officials will have responsibility but their powers will be taken away by the Iron and Steel Corporation created by the government. The corporation will decide high policy and the quantity and price of steel.

Outside the House 300,000 shareholders in the steel industry are being invited by the opposition to campaign against the bill.

Studying New Plans To Aid Shipbuilding In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Well-informed quarters believe the government soon will come up with some relief for Canada's hard-pressed shipbuilding industry.

The Canadian Maritime Commission, it is learned, had a glum picture placed before it at a recent meeting with its national advisory committee, and spokesmen for builders were insistent that the government do something to shore up this falling business.

At present, the industrialists said, there is no business in sight for the industry beyond next year—perhaps beyond the first half of the year. The big postwar backlog of orders has pretty well dwindled away.

Foreign orders have been choked off because of the development of shipyards abroad, lack of dollars and in some cases government subsidies in foreign countries.

Belief in the industry is that the Dominion will probably come to its aid with a system of accelerated depreciation on ships built for Canadian operators. This would make it easier for the operators to buy vessels, as they could divert part of their revenue from taxes towards paying off the cost of ships.

STEEL PRODUCTION

An announcement of plans greatly to expand Canadian iron and steel production is expected to come around the end of the year or at the latest—early in the next session of parliament.

Government sources say the plans are still being worked out in discussions between members of the steel industry and the government, but there has been no clear picture of the cost involved. Some sources have suggested that it might, over a period, amount to $100,000,000.

The expansion which is being planned is intended to run right through the industry and to include increased fabricating capacity as well as new blast furnaces.

All major steel producers are being drawn into the discussions, it was indicated.

Wallace Mystery On Plaza Screen

Edgar Wallace, always novel in his plots, sends a detective to prison in "Mystery of Room 13," the Alliance picture, which will be the feature attraction at the Plaza Theatre today.

On his release from prison, he learns, among other things, that the man he plans to arrest is about to marry his own fiancée. provide the basis of the plot. Gibb McLaughlin heads the cast in the role of Mr. Reeder, and Peter Murray-Hill plays the part of the amateur detective.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Dennis Morgan starring with Jack Carson in Warner Bros.' handsome new Technicolor musical round-up, "Two Guys From Texas," which is now at Capitol Theatre, likes to sing any time of the day. And he believes that he sings his best before a few friends around his own home piano, in his own tiled bathroom and in church. He has several recordings of his own which he likes to have played for his good friends. They are recorded hymns.

ROYAL THEATRE

One of the smallest sets ever used in a motion picture is the spare closet in which Cary Grant, Myrna Loy and Melvyn Douglas get trapped in RKO's riotous comedy, "Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House," which is currently at the Royal Theatre.

The Blandings and friend, Bill Cole, drive out to see the unfinished "dream house" and while Cary Grant shows them the special 3x4 foot closet he has built, the door bangs tightly shut. No amount of physical persuasion will budge the door and the actors remain in the tiny space for several hours, until Mr. Blandings decided to break the window.

DOMINION THEATRE

The successful actor, Joseph Schildkraut really wanted to be a musician after graduating from Berlin's Imperial Academy of Music. Almost in spite of himself, he was persuaded to take a course of studies under Max Reinhardt and Alfred Bernau which proved so fascinating that he never returned to his music.

Schildkraut's performances through the years have won him a host of loyal fans and honors. His role of Dreyfus in "The Life of Emile Zola" won him a coveted Academy Award several years ago. Currently he's in Republic's "The Gallant Legion," now at the Dominion Theatre.

Baby Prince's Names To Be Kept Secret Till Baptism

LONDON (CP)—Although the names to be given the son born Sunday night to Princess Elizabeth have not been announced, the King already has disclosed he will have the title Prince (Christian name) of Edinburgh and will be addressed as "His Royal Highness."

The infant's name will perhaps be kept secret until the christening—probably in the church at Sandringham, the King's favorite country estate.

One may assume that selections have been made—and that two of them are, George, for the King, and Philip, for the father, Albert may be included in deference to a custom initiated by Queen Victoria, who asked that the name of her consort be included in that of future princes.

In the running, too, is Louis, for Earl Mountbatten, Philip's uncle.

From the moment the birth was announced until well past midnight the crowds at the palace swelled, standing patiently, squatting on curbs, milling about or clambering over the huge Victoria monument in front of the palace.

They shouted, "We want Philip," and once, when police through a loudspeaker asked for silence, a man shouted "He's our Prince and we're going to cheer him." Immediately there followed the lusty chorus of "For he's a jolly good fellow."

Thousands had to walk home in the early hours because transport had closed down. One large group linked arms and went singing down the wide, three-lined mall connecting Buckingham Palace with Admiralty Arch and Trafalgar Square.

The baby arrived so quickly that officials, called to the palace for the birth, were still en route when he was born. The doctors had predicted the birth for Saturday or Sunday, but the final stages were unexpectedly rapid. Sir Alan Lascelles, the King's private secretary, who had the duty of notifying the Governor-General of Canada and the other Dominions, was hurrying to the palace when the birth took place.

TAKEN TO NURSERY

From inside the Royal apartments word came that as soon as the doctors had told him he was a father, Prince Philip rushed in to see his wife. She was still under anaesthetic. Philip then went to see the baby, who had been taken into the palace nursery.

A few minutes later the happy Duke brought the King and Queen in to see their first grandchild. The Queen embraced her son-in-law and the King shook his hand warmly.

When Philip was advised that Princess Elizabeth had regained consciousness he returned to her bedside and remained alone with her for some time.

Notification to the Dominions set a precedent, adding yet another indication of London's recognition of the new order in Commonwealth relations.

The birth of the Prince to Princess Elizabeth means that her sister, 18-year-old Princess Margaret, now is third in line of succession to the throne. Margaret will drop one place farther down for every child that is born to Elizabeth.

Wearing flannel slacks, an open-necked shirt and a sweater, Philip opened a bottle of champagne and with 81-year-old Queen Mother and members of the Royal Household, toasted his wife and son.

Twenty-one gun salutes booming out today in Ottawa and in most provincial capitals helped Canadians celebrate the birth of a son to Princess Elizabeth.

A Royal Canadian Navy flotilla at Esquimalt, B.C., fired a salute almost immediately the news came through Sunday. On the other coast, a broadside today by the aircraft carrier Magnificent was timed to coincide with the arrival of a United States Navy task force arriving in Halifax on a courtesy visit.

Morning papers broke out their largest type for the headline: "It's a boy!"

Canadians shared with the rest of the Commonwealth the jubilation over the arrival of the infant who may some day be King. In private homes, many a toast was drunk to the "really splendid baby" of the young princess and her handsome sailor-husband.
